Tunisia Clashes Saddle Pflimlin With New Crisis

French Premier Due To Seek New Confidence Vote

PARIS (AP)—An outburst of fighting between French and Tunisian troops in Tunisia Thursday saddled Premier Pierre Pflimlin with a new crisis in turbulent North Africa.

President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia broadcast news of the fighting as Pflimlin struggled to regain control of Algeria from rightists who demand a government headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Former Premier Antoine Pinay drove off to De Gaulle's country home to try to get him to persuade the Algerian rightists to accept Paris rule. Apparently he failed.

Confidence Vote Stated

Pflimlin's Cabinet approved a series of proposed constitutional amendments intended to strengthen the executive branch and thus take some of the wind out of De Gaulle's sails.

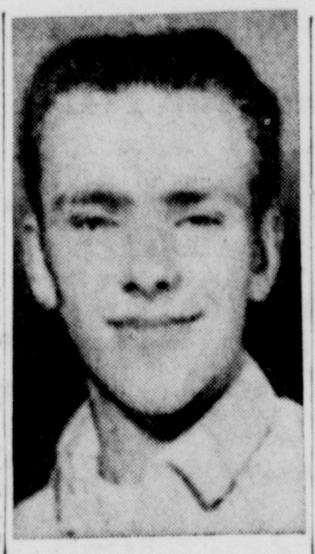
The ministers gave Pflimlin authority to make adoption of the amendments an issue of confidence — meaning the government will stand or fall on the outcome in Parliament. They decided to seek a showdown in the National Assembly Tuesday.

Fall of Pflimlin's government now would almost certainly open the way for President Rene Coty to call De Gaulle to the nation's leadership. The Premier seemed confident this wouldn't happen.

Demonstrations Continue

De Gaullist demonstrations kept on in Algeria. About 100,000 persons in Oran cheered Gaullist leader Jacques Soustelle and the civilian - military junta leader when they arrived in that Western City.

Soustelle said the Algiers movement "definitely stopped the decadence in France." Brig Gen. Jacques Massu, the tough paratroop commander and insurgent leader, got more cheers when he shouted "Vive de Gaulle!"



TRIANGLE SLAYER — First degree murder charges were to be filed against Kermit Keeshan (above), 17, in the slaying of Diane Zaruba, 17, and Jerry Sherwood, 18, at Albion, Neb. The shootings were described as the outgrowth of a teen-age triangle. Authorities said Keeshan fired the fatal shots, then shot himself in the head. His condition is described as serious. Fighting Follows Airport Bombing By French Plane

TUNIS (AP)—Gun fighting blazed Thursday between lingering French colonial forces and Tunisian troops after a French jet fighter dropped a bomb at Gafsa firfield in central Tunisia.

Apparently there were no casualties in several ensuing shooting incidents.

Official sources said Thursday night the Runisian ambassador in Washington, Mongi Slim, is being told to complain to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that France has created a dangerous international situation in this republic.

This country adjoins Algeria, where French military and colonial rightists are in power in defiance of the Paris government.

There was no immediate indication that Tunisia would appeal to the U.N. Security Council. Protests addressed to the secretary general usually are circulated among the member nations.

No Fatalities

The officials said there were no fatalities in the noisy clashes of machine gun and mortar fire around Gafsa.

President Habib Bourguiba himself broke the news of the bomb dropping and followup fighting.

In a broadcast to Tunisians he said the bomb was dropped on the airfield by a jet that had just taken off with three others in a rattle of gunfire.

Bourguiba's version said French forces guarding the French airdrome under treaty rights and Tunisian units opened fire at each other—without inflicting casualties.

Tunisian officials said the planes with machine guns blazing then flew over the town of Gafsa, a market center and shipping point for phosphorous and olive oil.

Again, the officials said, no one was hit.

In late afternoon, government sources said, French troops came out of their barracks and fired on Tunisian soldiers, who returned the fire. Still there were no reported casualties.

Tunisians Shoot At Plane

Officials said the French came out of their bararacks firing after Tunisian troops shot at a French reconnaissance plane

A spokesman said Tunisia has decided to forbid the French use of four airfields they still hold in this country.

Ambassador Slim in Washington was instructed to tell the U.N. secretary general there is a "dangerous development of the situation in south Tunisia."

President Bourguiba has remained stoutly pro - Western despite the troubles with the lingering remnants of French colonialism in his fledgling republic. He is French-educated and has expressed fondness for French culture despite the fact that he has been a some-time political prisoner of the French.

Flaming Flood After Refinery Blast Kills Two

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—More than a dozen big crude oil and gasoline tanks exploded like a string of firecrackers Thursday as flames swept through a Signal Hill refinery.

At least two men were burned to death, trapped in a flood of flaming oil.

Fourteen were known injured.

A series of explosions rocked Signal Hill and Long Beach within five minutes after the fire erupted. The circular lid of one tank sailed 400 feet through the air.

Fifty workers at the Hancock Oil Co. refinery ran for their lives when the first tank went up.

Wayne Bradshaw, 26, was one who escaped. He told a reporter: "I see one guy right here burn to death. He tried to run while he was on fire with oil all over him."

Bradshaw said a tide of oil rushed downhill at the workers when the first blast split open a tank. "It was pouring down the roadway," he said. The man he saw die had stopped to try and get his car out of the area and was trapped by the oil as it ignited.

One of the dead was James Edward, 66, Fullerton.

The other was an unidentified man.

Scores of cars parked within the refinery were reported burned.

Police ordered the evacuation of Long Beach Air Force Base, a reserve facility adjacent to the refinery.

All fire-fighting units for miles around were called into service by Los Angeles County Fire Chief Keith Klinger, directing the battle by radio from a helicopter.

He described the fire as spreading from the refinery area into a tank farm holding millions of gallons of high-test oil and fuel in storage.

Hancock's field is on the northeast of renowned, oil-rich Signal Hill.

House Approval Puts Mail Hike Up To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 379-0 House vote Thursday put it up to President Eisenhower whether to raise postal rates by 550 million dollars a year.

The unanimous vote completed congressional action on a bill that, in addition to raising postal rates, would increase postal employes' pay by 380 million dollars a year.

If Eisenhower signs the bill before the month is out, the cost of mailing a first class letter will increase on Aug. 1 from the present 3 cents to 4 cents. It will cost 7 cents, instead of 6, for an airmail letter and 3 cents, instead of 2, for a postcard.

Rates on second class mail—newspapers and magazines—would be raised 60 per cent on the advertising content and 30 per cent on the editorial portion of a publication. This would take effect in three annual 20 and 10 per cent jumps with the first one coming next January.

Third class—largely advertising circulars — rates would be increased 66 2-3 per cent in two steps. The bulk piece rate would go up from 1½ to 2 cents next Jan. 1 and to 2½ cents July 1, 1960.

The administration has been trying for years to get rates raised, so as to reduce the annual deficit shown in Post Office Department operations. However, this bill is 150 million dollars short of what Eisenhower asked in revenue and 220 million more than he sought in pay raises.

While there has been some talk of a veto, one senator said that Postmaster General Summerfield urgently asked Eisenhower last Monday to sign the measure.

4,000 French Troops Leave For Algeria

MARSEILLES, France (AP)—Two French troopships loaded with more than 4,000 soldiers left here late Thursday night for Algeria.

The men were described as replacements for soldiers fighting the Algerian nationalist rebellion.

This is the first shipment of troops to Algeria since French military and civilian rightists took over there May 13 in defiance of the Paris government.

Teen Triangle Slaying Stuns Nebraska Town

ALBION, Neb. (AP) — A teen-age triangle slaying that left two Albion high school honor students dead and a third seriously wounded clouded plans for graduation Friday in this stunned northeast Nebraska town of 2,132.

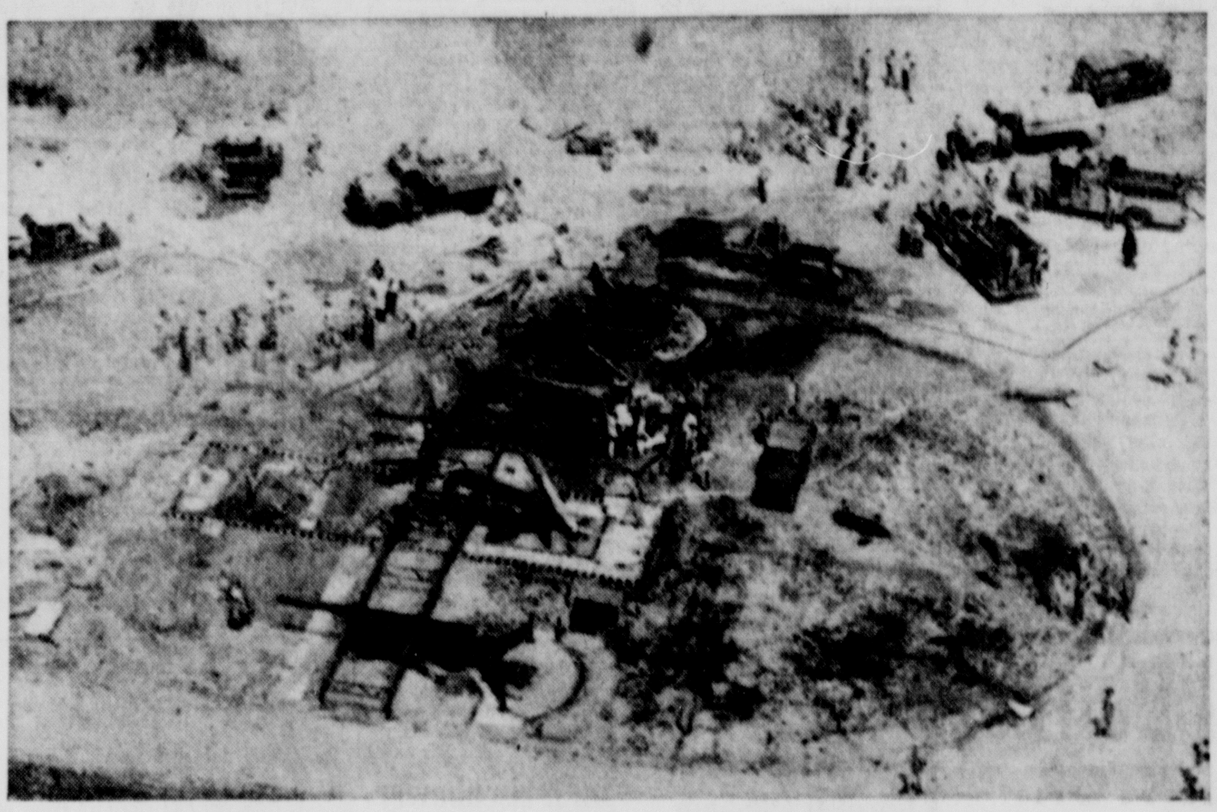
Jerry Sherwood, 18, one of the victims, was to have delivered one of four commencement talks prepared by honor students, then receive his diploma and a University of Nebraska regents scholarship from his father, Lynn Sherwood, retiring president of the Albion School Board.

Supt. of Schools Gail Sims said commencement exercises will be held as scheduled but the traditional student speeches, including Jerry Sherwood's speech: "We might have a chance" will be distributed in printed form instead of being delivered.

Jerry and Diane Zaruba, 17, a junior honor student, were fatally shot Wednesday evening as they were getting ready to go on a church picnic. Authorities said Kermit Keeshan, 17, a junior, fired the fatal shots, then shot himself in the head. He is expected to recover. Dep. Boone County Atty. Ray Medlin Sr., said Keeshan will be charged with first-degree murder.

Medical records showed Keeshan fell from a horse, apparently without injury in 1953. In 1956 he was seriously injured in an automobile accident.

He suffered a convulsion in 1955, thought to have resulted from the fall, but examination failed to reveal anything serious. An Omaha physician said, however, the youth has been under psychological care and study during different periods since 1955, and that a brain wave test in 1955, showed physiological brain changes.



Where Nike Guided Missiles Exploded

Shattered launching equipment covers the ground after eight Nike guided missiles exploded yesterday at the Middletown, N. J., base. Panama Troops Curbing Riots; 9 Dead, 61 Hurt

PANAMA (AP) — Panama troops battling destructive rioters and snipers Thursday bottled up student demonstrators here and in Colon.

Government spokesmen said order was being restored after hours of fighting in the capital of this republic astride the U. S. - run canal zone.

Nine persons were killed and at least 61 injured in hours of fighting here between National Guardsmen and rioters who went on a rampage of destruction.

The government claimed snipers killed the victims, including men, women and youths.

Several National Guardsmen were among the wounded.

There were no reports of casualties at Colon, second largest city in the country, at the Caribbean entrance to the canal.

Other sections of the country were reported quiet.

The riots came in the midst of the threat of a general strike at midnight Thursday (2 a.m. EST Friday). The government met that threat and the accompanying riots with declaration of a state of siege—modified martial law.

Amid indications the government was ready to impose press and radio censorship, there were reports the afternoon opposition newspaper Nacion was forced to close and its editor, Manual Maria Valdes, was jailed.

Firing was heaviest here in the Calidonia tenement section and around the National Institute, headquarters of the student movement.

National Guard headquarters said National University students arranged for a truce to evacuate students massed in the National Institute before the troops moved in to clear out snipers.

At Colon students concentrated in a high school building and troops gave them an ultimatum to move out in groups of three to surrender.

The strike was called after several days of student demonstrations demanding the ouster of Education Minister Victor Juliao for alleged failure to correct bad school conditions.

Milton Eisenhower Named Dad Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, followed in his brother's footsteps Thursday by being named father of the year.

His brother, President Eisenhower, won the distinction in 1943.

The university president, father of two children, was chosen by the National Fathers Day Committee as an outstanding spokesman in the field of education. It also named fathers in sports, entertainment and the arts. Fathers Day is June 15.

Ike Orders Stopgap Air Safety Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, heeding demands for quick action to reduce the number of aircraft collisions in midair, issued orders Thursday for an emergency safety program.

The new air regulations, some of which will go into effect within a few days, are designed to put tighter restrictions on the bullet-like flights of military aircraft and keep them off civilian airlanes when they are engaged in dangerous maneuvers.

At first, the President intended to leave corrective measures to his Air Coordination Committee, headed by Lt. Gen. Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, a retired Air Force officer. He had directed Quesada to start a study of the problem Friday.

But later, after conferring with members of a House subcommittee working on aviation safety, Eisenhower decided on prompter steps.

He authorized Quesada to instruct the Civil Aeronautics Administration and other federal agencies concerned to act at once to prevent future midair smashups.

A five-point program was announced at the White House by Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga), chairman of the House subcommittee. It provides for these changes in flying regulations:

1. Jet trainer aircraft flown by student pilots on civilian airways will be required to operate under instrument flight rules—IFR. At present, Preston said, such craft operate under visual flight rules except at night and in bad weather.

2. Military jet trainers when traveling from higher to lower altitudes will be required to do so off civilian airways.

3. Itinerant (cross-country, for example) jet planes will be required to file flight plans with the CAA.

4. Jet trainer pilots making proficiency flights will be required to do so off the civilian airways.

5. Operation flights, as distinguished from training flights, must be made on the civilian airways under IFR restrictions and CAA control.

Preston said he wanted to emphasize that this is a short-range, emergency program. He added the CAA expects to have a long-range safety program in effect in about 90 days.

Truman Warns Foreign Policy Disaster Looms

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman has declared the United States "may be on the brink of one of the greatest foreign policy disasters in its history."

"The free world alliances, on which our security depends, are threatened," the former President said in an address Thursday night in which he accused the Eisenhower administration of making a mess of things at home and abroad.

He said the people want the truth and the facts about the recession, and he added: "They want action at the top—for the good of the nation and the welfare and the benefit of the ordinary citizen."

He also wrote this criticism into a typical give-'em-hell speech: "We may be on the brink of one of the greatest foreign policy disasters of our history."

Truman was billed as the featured speaker at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, sponsored by the Cook County — Chicago — Democrats.

"The Republicans are making a mess of things in Washington, and we must do something about it before it is too late," he said.

The principal answer to the what-to-do question, he suggested, is to increase the Democratic majorities in Congress in the elections this fall, and to elect a Democratic president in 1960.

Earlier, he told newsman that the Democrats will win both tests if current conditions continue.

13 Children Die In Fire

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (AP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police said Thursday night that 13 children had been burned to death in a fire at the Anahim reserve Indian school, some 60 miles west of here.

First reports indicated the blaze was in a hospital operated by the Sisters of Christ the King.

The RCMP said the Indian agent at the reserve reported 11 babies were killed in the day-long blaze. Two older children also died.

The number of injured was not known.

French Navy Seizes Italian Arms Ship

ALGIERS (AP)—The French Navy Thursday seized an Italian ship with nine tons of what it called combat equipment of American origin en route from Yugoslavia to Tunisia.

A French military spokesman for Algeria said the cargo was intended for Algerian nationalist rebels.

A&P-Butcher Union Deal Denounced By McClellan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), Senate Rackets Committee chairman, Thursday accused the A & P stores and Butchers Union bosses of conspiracy in a deal he contended meant millions of dollars for the company.

The A&P stores said in a statement that, "We are convinced on the basis of the best legal advice that our conduct was entirely legal and proper."

McClellan's statement capped nearly two weeks of hearings on secret negotiations which drew 10,000 New York area A&P clerks into the Butchers Union in 1952, not knowing that they were bound to a 45-hour work week for nearly five years. Some competing stores had a 40-hour work week.

McClellan ordered an immediate start of hearings on the financial affairs of Max Block, the New York Butchers Union boss who helped negotiate the contract, and a brother, Louis Block.

McClellan read his statement after one of the final witnesses in the A&P hearing—New York Butchers Union member Thomas Closter—had denounced the agreement between A&P and his union chiefs as "a sweetheart contract."

Prior witnesses including Charles T. Schimmat, A&P labor relations chief, had testified that the 10,000 clerks were blanketed into the union under a contract which purported to provide a 45-hour week for only 22 months. Schimmat acknowledged, however he had a secret side agreement that the company would be secure against 40 - hour week demands for an additional 33 months.

Cost Of Living Hits New Peak Despite Slump

WASHINGTON (AP)—The current recession, a curious one in some ways, rang up new price increases and at the same time registered continuing gains in long-term unemployment.

Also, the Senate Finance Committee voted 11-4 for a bill that would permit unemployment compensation benefits to be paid for a longer time. The bill has already passed the House.

Both sets of figures on prices and joblessness were on the basis of April conditions, and may have improved since. There were official assurances that the big rises in the cost of living index have now come to an end.

These were the major developments Thursday:

1. The government's cost index reached still another peak in April, 123.5 per cent of the 1947-49 base period and 3.5 per cent above a year ago.

However, food prices were reported to be declining in May, and Ewan Clague, Labor Department commissioner of statistics, said the big rises are now over.

2. Secretary of Labor Mitchell told the House Banking Committee that there were about 1,900,000 workers who had been unemployed for 15 weeks or more in mid-April, a large number, and been increasing rapidly in recent months.

Mitchell said total unemployment may reach six million this summer. He said the six million figure would not be too meaningful because of a change in figuring unemployment. The Census Bureau is now counting laid-off workers as unemployed; until recently it counted only those dropped more definitely.

3. The Senate Finance Committee on jobless benefits, rejected a substitute offered by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) on a 10-4 vote.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said the committee bill will be brought up Tuesday. Douglas promised a renewal of his fight there.

The Eisenhower administration has approved the bill, although it would leave up to the states whether to go along. The administration had wanted a mandatory program.

Chain Blasts Rock Jersey Missile Base

One Rocket Flies Two Miles Over Populated Areas

MIDDLETOWN, N.J. (AP) — A powerful Nike guided missile blew up on the ground here Thursday and exploded seven others in a tremendous blast. All were fully armed for warfare.

Seven to 10 persons died in a split second of disintegrating force and flame. From the scattered human fragments, it was impossible to set the death toll. Brig. Gen. Charles B. Duff of the Army Air Defense Command, said it would be at least seven and could be 10.

Three others were injured. Victims included both civilians and servicemen.

Each of the missiles carried three warheads. The explosion strewed these explosive devices across a wide range of countryside. Most of them were accounted for but others still lay unexploded like booby traps.

No Atomic Warheads

However, the missiles did not bear atomic warheads, but conventional ones of shrapnel and high explosives.

"We do feel the area now is reasonably safe," Duff said.

The explosion spewed forth a great orange ball of fire over the missile base here. It cast an eerie pall over a scene of carnage that one eyewitness called "horrible beyond imagination."

Out of the smoke and flames, one of the sleek, liquid - fueled rockets launched itself at the instant of the explosion. It spent itself harmlessly in open terrain after a sinister, unguided flight for two miles over populated areas.

Eyewitnesses spoke of flaming pieces of other missiles arching across the rolling countryside here. At least one fell in a yard where children had been at play a short time earlier.

Trucks Turned To Skeletons

The terrific heat of the blast melted the metal work around the missile - launching pit. It burned trucks and other Army vehicles to steel skeletons.

It may never be known what set off the first rocket, whose explosion triggered a chain reaction.

"The only people who could give us that precise information are among the casualties," Gen. Duff said.

The missiles, known as the Ajax type, exploded at about 1:20 p.m. EDT. Residents of the area protested in vain against erection of the installation here several years ago.

For a mile or more around the explosion scene, windows were shattered, doors blown in and pieces of jagged missile debris lanced the earth. One woman was blown out of a chair in the living room of her home.

Atom's Magic Helps Lay Keel Of NS Savannah

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon waved a red, white and blue wand charged with the atom's magic, thereby laying the keel Thursday for the world's first nuclear - powered merchant ship.

Moments before, the vice president's wife began the dramatic ritual at the New York Shipbuilding Corp.'s yards she told a crowd of several thousand: "This is another way in which the United States extends the hand of friendship to the rest of the world."

By putting atomic power to peaceful use in this vessel—called NS Savannah after the first ship to cross the Atlantic under steam—America will carry "the blessing of freedom and justice to all nations," Mrs. Nixon said.

The spectators cheered as she moved a radioactive baton toward a Geiger counter, thus starting a splutter of amplified sound. These clicks in turn signaled a crane operator to set the 60-ton kee, section into position for the start of construction.

Together with Edward L. Teale, New York Ship president, Mrs. Nixon then set the Savannah's nameplate into its slot.

Moroccan Demand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Morocco's ambassador said Thursday his government has demanded that all French troops leave its territory immediately.

El Mehdi ben Aboud said the demand was made Wednesday by the Foreign Office in a note to the French ambassador.

Cost-Of-Living Rise Sweetens Contract Offer To Auto Union

DETROIT (AP)—The government Thursday sweetened the contract offers of the big auto companies to the United Auto Workers Union.

Another rise in the cost of living announced by the Bureau of Labor Statistics automatically gives auto workers a wage increase of two cents an hour provided they accept for another two years the wage formula in present contracts.

Renewal of the contracts would give auto workers a wage increase of nine cents per hour in June.

But the union is insisting on General Motors, Chrysler and Ford coming up with something more attractive. It says built-in annual wage increases averaging seven cents an hour, plus the cost of living increase, are not enough.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther met in an emergency session with his 25-man executive board to study bargaining strategy.

If the board decides upon any major changes in bargaining policy, its recommendations will be submitted Friday to a joint meeting of councils representing GM, Ford and Chrysler workers. The meeting will be closed to reporters. But the union says it will hold a news conference afterward.

Officially, the union is standing pat on its original demands — a basic wage increase of at least 10 cents an hour, more fringe benefits and a slice of company profits.

UAW leaders have indicated they would accept renewal of present contracts for two years if the companies improve the basic wage offer, layoff pay, pensions and other benefits. But they aren't saying how much they would scale down original demands.

The companies say they don't intend to offer the union one more penny than they've already offered.

Air Controller "Saw" On Radar Planes Collide

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators heard Thursday that a federal air controller actually "saw" on his radar the collision of a military jet trainer and a Capital airliner which cost 12 lives.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) official was on the microphone calling the ill-fated airliner, it was testified, but the collision came too fast for him to avert the tragedy.

In other highlights of a government operations subcommittee inquiry into the Tuesday accident over Brunswick, Md.:

1. Lt. Col. Edwin Warfield, staff chief of the Maryland Air National Guard whose T33 trainer collided with the Capital Airlines plane, refused to blame the military craft at this time for the crackup.

"We feel the Air National Guard jet had just as much right to be in the air as any other plane that day and we do not accept it as the cause of the accident until the board finishes its inquiry," Warfield said. He said the pilot, Capt. Julius McCoy, violated no rules in taking the flight.

2. Capital Airlines Vice President James B. Franklin said Capital's inquiry so far indicates the jet plowered into the left side of the airliner's cockpit area and sheared off this front part of the plane.

3. James T. Pyle, head of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said more powerful new radar would be installed by this fall at the Washington control tower.

Manhattan Workers Uncover Old Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—A Colonial ship that may have sunk between 1700 and 1760 was uncovered Thursday by workmen digging the foundation of a new building in Lower Manhattan.

The ship, about 20 feet underground, appeared to be sitting upright.

James A. Kelly, Brooklyn Borough historian, examined the ship and said it probably was sunk between 1700 and 1760, before the shoreline was extended by land fills about 100 yards into Upper New York Bay.

Youth, 19, Makes Cop And Robber Game Too Real

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (AP) — Kent Hall, 19, Logansport, learned Thursday he's just a little too old to be playing cops and robbers.

A South Bend motorist, James Sloderbeck, complained Hall stopped him on the highway while driving a car equipped with a red light and siren. Hall himself was decked out with a toy police badge and a real .25-caliber pistol in a holster.

The youth tried to arrest Sloderbeck for speeding but instead found himself charged on three counts of impersonating an officer.

A judge fined Hall $35, suspended a 30-day jail term and warned him to curb his law enforcement activities at least until he is old enough to join the state police.

Electricity 'Jumps' To Crane, Burning 4

BALTIMORE (AP) — Four men were burned Thursday when a 138,000-volt charge shot down a crane and through a steel beam they were putting on a truck.

William M. Hindman Jr., 24, one of the injured, said he saw a blue flash as the electricity "jumped" from a Pennsylvania Railroad power line to the crane.

Police were not certain whether the crane brushed the line or electricity jumped to the boom.

Two others in addition to Hindman were admitted to Lutheran Hospital with burns on the hands, arms, legs and feet including Charles O'Brien, 29, and Robert Kirby, 36. Louis Principio, 32, was treated for burns on one hand and released.

Mrs. Eisenhower Scoops White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower scooped the White House Thursday with the news that she and the President will go to Gettysburg for the weekend.

The First Lady revealed the plans to a few members of the Congressional Club, which gave a breakfast in her honor.

She said she planned to stay until next Wednesday, but the President would return earlier. It would be the first time she has been at the Gettysburg farm that long since January.

Soil Bank Pays 2,422 More Than $10,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) said Thursday that 2,422 farmers received more than $10,000 each in 1957 soil bank payments.

In contrast, he said, the average soil bank payment to the 1,260,000 farmers participating in the program was $487. The soil bank provides payments to farmers for taking certain surplus crops out of production.

Two Maryland Men Convicted Of Looting Bank

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Federal Court jury Thursday convicted two Prince Georges County men of robbing a Marlowe Heights branch bank of $17,000.

The jury found Tyrus F. Jones, 28, of Capitol Heights, and Robert W. Princeler, 27, of Mount Rainier guilty on all five counts but failed to recommend the death penalty which was possible under one charge of the indictment.

Sentence was postponed pending a new trial move.

The men were charged with forcing their way into the home of Clarence E. Cranford of Silver Spring, teller of the bank, about 10:30 p.m. the night of Jan. 26.

Cranford testified that Jones forced him to go with him to the bank, the Marlowe Heights Branch of the First National Bank of Southern Maryland, while Princeler, remained at the Cranford home holding Cranford's wife and baby as hostages until the robbery was completed.

The two men were charged with robbery, entering a bank to commit robbery, carrying away the money, putting Cranford's life in jeopardy and with forcing the teller to accompany him to the bank to participate in a robbery against his will. The last count was punishable by the death penalty if the jury had so recommended.

Appeals Court Reverses Verdict In Damage Suite

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that a driver who makes the wrong decision in an emergency may not be held negligent if the emergency was not created by him.

The high court ruled in favor of Ralph B. Mason of Havre de Grace in two appeals from Harford County Circuit Court verdicts concerning damages in a two-car collision.

The 3-2 majority opinion reversed an order for Mason to pay damages to Theodore V. Triplett and ordered a new trial in Mason's suit for damages against Elbert E. Roy.

Triplett was a passenger in a car driven by Roy when it collided head-on with Mason's auto Jan. 30, 1955, on Juniata Street in Havre de Grace.

The majority opinion was written by Judge William L. Henderson.

Flying Syringe Halts Wild Dogs

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A drug in an ingenious flying syringe fired through a blowgun is bringing wild dogs that have been too fast for the dog catcher.

Early models of the gun were used to capture deer on Ossabaw Island off the Georgia coast. Refinements in the gun, development of a flying syringe and tests with about 60 drugs have produced a formidable weapon.

A University of Georgia research team experimenting with the gun on wild dogs believe that in time the device can be used to halt riots in prisons and in public places. Conceivably it could be used in wartime to capture enemy prisoners. Federal prisoners at the Atlanta Penitentiary have volunteered for experiments.

But for now, the gun and syringe is the answer to the animal trapper's prayer.

Dr. G. T. Turnipseed, county veterinarian, said dogs he had been chasing for weeks were captured with little effort.

HERE'S HOW TO SPOT REDUCE HIPS, THIGHS, TUMMY, WAIST FOR ONLY 58¢ A WEEK!*

TAKE INCHES OFF WHERE YOU WANT THEM OFF— THE Vibra-Slim "HOME SALON" WAY!

Select The Spot That Needs Slimming Most... Then Let Vibra-Slim Go To Work!

TUMMY, WAIST: Conditions, tones and exercises weak, inelastic muscles . . . helps tighten sagging skin. It's the pleasant "minutes a day" way to spot-reduce unsightly fatty deposits on your Vibra-Slim "home salon" reducing program . . . without starvation diets! Delightful tingling vibrations are so kitten soft . . . so whisper-quiet!

BACK, BUTTOCKS: Like a thousand busy fingers massaging you . . . blissful Vibra-Slim pulsations set fatty tissues into exercising, slenderizing motion, gives many times more massaging action than a professional rubdown. So soothing too . . . and how pleased you'll be as embarrassing bulges are whittled down the Vibra-Slim way . . . as excess layers of flesh are remolded into sleeker, smoother more curvacious lines.

SPOT-MASSAGES YOU 3200 TIMES PER MINUTE!

Like having a private reducing salon in your own home!

Yes, your first two weeks of daily slimming sessions with Vibra-Slim pays for the entire cost of the machine itself in money you save on salon fees.

Stretch Out Like a Pampered Princess And Slenderize While You Relax!

Vibra-Slim gives you the same spot-reducing benefits as the finest reducing salons . . . and there are no appointments to make, no travel, no inconvenience. So luxurious, too! Just 15 minutes a day helps whisk unwanted inches away while you read, watch TV, even nap. And you'll be the proud owner of a marvelous "home salon" exerciser that the whole family can use and enjoy for years to come for invigorating body tone . . . penetrating deep massage . . . soothing relief for minor aches and pains . . . healthful "exercise without effort!"

More effective in a few minutes than days of exhausting exercise

To get the merest idea of how much excess flabby tissue your Vibra-Slim exerciser can massage and manipulate in just one minute's time—do this: Just place both your hands on your waist, thighs or tummy . . . and gently rotate your hands.

Now imagine if you can, that this soothing manipulation is going on at the fantastic rate of 3200 times a minute . . . and you'll begin to understand how Vibra-Slim is so remarkably helpful in coaxing excess puffy flesh into taut, smooth lines so quickly! And remember, it is this speeded-up motion of your tissues . . . 3200 times per minute . . . that aids in fast, effective, spot reduction . . . that actually helps trim down the size of your measurements wherever it embarrasses you most! Your own measurements before and after starting your Vibra-Slim slenderizing program will dramatically prove that to you!

Every conceivable advantage of the finest salon methods is yours with Vibra-Slim. Along with your machine you also get a generous supply of Vibra-Slim's safe, proven appetite satients for lowering your caloric intake without special diets of any kind whatever.

Remember, Vibra-Slim goes to work directly on the cause of your "Fatty Problem Spots"—helps to firm and tighten while you relax.

So now is it any wonder why the Vibra-Slim method can actually accomplish in just a few days what exhausting exercise can only accomplish in weeks, even months. Or why it's more efficient than a professional rubdown in an expensive salon. Remember, no two hands . . . or even a dozen, can possibly put so many of your tissues into scientific slimming motion at once. Best of all, you'll know as the minutes fly by that you're creating a newer, lovelier you . . . that each luxurious flexing-vibration is molding you toward perfection and that its magic slimming-action is helping to take years off your figure as you arise refreshed, alive, glowing, stimulated!

Size: 12" x 5½" x 5½"

HEALTHFUL BENEFITS for the whole FAMILY!

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS? You'll be amazed to discover how Vibra-Slim, applied nightly, creates a blissful, relaxed feeling . . . helps you sleep like a baby.

MEN who work in offices, who don't get a chance to do much exercise, find the Vibra-Slim method, an easy practical way to guard against flab or "pot belly" . . . step up circulation, improve muscle tone, gain increased vigor, vitality!

OLDER FOLKS and sufferers from lower back pains or minor rheumatic-like symptoms will appreciate the blessed, quick, temporary relief Vibra-Slim offers wherever massage is indicated.

FEET ache after a days work or shopping? Just a short session with Vibra-Slim sends blood pulsing at faster rate . . . makes tiredness float away! Oh how good it feels! In a few minutes you'll jump up refreshed . . . ready to be on the go again.

Pittsburgh Woman Heads B&O Grand Auxiliary

The Grand Auxiliary to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Veteran Employes Association elected and installed officers at the business session held yesterday morning in the ballroom of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Mrs. E. R. Stanley, Pittsburgh, was elected grand president; Mrs. Eston Carroll, Darby, Pa., vice president; Mrs. Arthur Mulgrew, Dubois, Pa., secretary; Mrs. Harford Lewis, Indianapolis, Ind., treasurer; Mrs. Alex Abraham, Massilen, Ohio, chaplin; Mrs. Homer Hall, McMechen, W. Va., marshal; Mrs. C. R. Duckworth, New Castle, Pa., musician; and Mrs. John H. Happ, Baltimore, historian.

Grand directors are Mrs. Tim Keefer, Willard, Ohio; Mrs. Harry Rowley, McMechen; Mrs. J. J. Evans, Connellsville, Pa., Mrs. Ralph Tolson, Cleveland, Ohio; and Mrs. A. J. Jackson, Bridgeport, Ohio.

The installation was conducted by Mrs. Paul Bender, New Castle; with Mrs. Ralph Gandy, DuBois, as marshal. Both are past grand presidents.

Paper Staff, Advisor Are Honored

The 1958-59 staff and the advisor, Dr. Lucile N. Clay, of State-to-Date, at Frostburg State Teachers College, were honored with a banquet Tuesday at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Dean Ivan C. Diehl spoke on "The Outer Banks; Fact and Fiction."

Those present included both retiring and new staff members. Patricia McGill again will serve as editor-in-chief; Sterley VanPelt, editorial writer; Nancy Parker, JoEllen Spangler, business managers. Cathy Joyce and Marianne Hoelzer are news co-editors assisted by Amelia Diehl, Marilyn Hitchcock and Elizabeth Delgard. Feature editors are Elizabeth Ann Maher and Marietta Gaudio with Barbara Glotfelty, Ellen Olinger, Blanch Fowler and Delores Vetter assisting.

William Fair and Harold Schriver are sports editors assisted by Marie Goebel, William Preston, Douglas Brown and Pamela Minke, women's sport editor. Jean Stottlemeyer will serve as headline editor and Robert Hardman again will be photographer.

Josephine Epperson Bobbitt, Clara Martz Grimes, Sarah Slick and Marina Tuya, seniors, Sally McGreevy and Douglas Cook, junior college graduates, who were members of this year's staff, also attended.

OPEN TO TOUR TOMORROW—The old National Pike Toll House erected in 1833 will be among the 12 places open to visitors tomorrow in the third annual tour, sponsored by the Allegany County Historical Society. The original octagonal building had an office on the first floor and a bedroom on the second. The floors are of random oak with walnut pegs. There are two large fireplaces. Toll rates are printed on the slab outside. The wing, with three additional rooms, was added later.

Opti-Mrs. Club To Help Friends Aware Children

Projects and activities for the coming year were selected by the Opti-Mrs. Club at the final meeting before the summer recess, which was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt, Rose Hill Avenue. Mrs. George Fey presided. Mrs. Hugh Funkhauser read a prayer.

The club plans to finance transportation to the park this summer for the children of Friends Aware, and to purchase a wheel chair for the infirmary. It also was decided to continue the regular summer project of "making a dollar grow" by earning money in various ways. Plans also were made to have a picnic in June. Mrs. Raymond Kenney was named chairman. She will select the date and place. During the summer too a sewing bee will be held and members will make lap robes for the people at the infirmary.

A dance is to be held in October and plans for various types of sales will be completed at the meeting September 17. Hostesses then will be Mrs. Kenney, Mrs. Edward Meconi, Mrs. Bernard Whitacre, and Mrs. Harold Naughton.

Concluding the meeting a social hour was held and secret sisters were revealed. Refreshments were served. Games were played with Mrs. Philip Fleming, Mrs. Carl Amtower and Mrs. Funkhauser winning the prizes. Mrs. Fey received the special award. Hostesses were Mrs. Earl Nonnenmann, Mrs. Howard Fisher, Mrs. Donald Mason and Mrs. Orville Swartley.

Others attending were Mrs. Naughton, Mrs. Frederick Sullivan, Mrs. Meconi, Mrs. Samuel Dishong, Mrs. George Eyler, Mrs. James Honeycutt, Mrs. Charles See, Mrs. Francis Warnick, Mrs. Raymond Hinkle, Mrs. George Furstenberg, Mrs. Leo Barkman, Mrs. Carl Winfield, Mrs. Wilbur Klingler, Mrs. Allan Staggers, Mrs. Byron Kight and Mrs. Kenny.

Meeting Dates Are Changed

The WSCS of Park Place voted to change meeting dates and reorganized circles at the meeting held at the church Tuesday. Mrs. Herbert Cessna presided and read and article, "Opportunity." Prayer was led by Mrs. Raymond Koontz, who conducted devotions on "To the Work and How God did His Work." She also read a poem, "Voice of Jesus Calling." The group sang, "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder."

Society meeting are to be held the second Tuesday of each month, Circle meetings the third Tuesday and the executive committee meeting the Thursday before the second Tuesday of each month.

New circle leaders are Mrs. Julia Driver, Queen Esther; Mrs. Dorothy Bittner, Mary Martha; Mrs. Mildred Short, Ruth; and Mrs. Edward Chenowith, Electa. Mrs. Charles Lowe was appointed a member of the commission of education.

It was decided to entertain with a covered dish dinner honoring the recent high school graduates, June 1 at 6 p. m. Each graduate will be presented a Bible. Plans also were made to hold a rummage sale May 27 at 10 a. m., in the basement of Centre Street Methodist Church.

The society will donate cup cakes for the picnic, following the vacation church school June 16 through 27. A contribution was sent to the district secretary to be used toward purchasing a mimeograph machine for the district. Mrs. Vernon Miller reported 3,562 coupons have been sent to the Asbury Home. Letters of appreciation were read for contributions to child care and the Strawbridge Home, as a memorial to Mrs. David Durst.

It was announced that at the district meeting two cards of recognition were presented to the society for completing the study course on "Japan" and "Christ, the Church and Race." Mrs. William Greer was presented the Methodist Women's pin for four years' service. Mrs. Bruce Bower was presented a flower for perfect attendance during the year. New members received during the past year were presented handkerchief corsages. They are Mrs. Charles Lowe, Mrs. Cora Wakefield, Mrs. Lena Hirshberger, Miss Maxine Moon and Miss Derenda Chenowith. Circle leaders for the past year, also received gifts. Mrs. Walter Bennett reported on the executive committee meeting.

The "pig in the poke" prize was won by Mrs. Charles Price. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Cessna, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. Dorothy Bittner and Mrs. Bruce Bower.

8 Women To Study Judging

Eight homemakers from Allegany County will attend the judges training meeting to be held at Westminster May 26. Others will attend from Baltimore, Carroll, Cecil, Frederick, Garrett, Harford and Washington counties.

Four district judges training meetings will be held so homemakers will learn to be better judges of foods, clothing, home furnishings, home management, 4-H booths and demonstrations. Those taking the training will be available to judge at county fairs and achievement days.

Eastern Shore counties met at Cambridge yesterday; central and southern counties will meet today at Hyattsville. Extension and home economics specialists are setting up the items to be judged and will conduct the training.

District 1 State Nurses To Hold Dinner May 28

The bi-monthly meeting of District 1, Maryland State Nurses Association will be held in the form of a banquet May 28. It will be at the Fort Cumberland Hotel at 6:30, with Mrs. Marietta Early presiding.

Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, guest speaker, is to be introducted by Miss Mary Margaret King. Miss Walsh is to present a book review entitled, "Treasures in Books."

Delegates to the American Nurses Association Convention will be announced by Mrs. Early. The convention will be held June 9 to 13 in Atlantic City.

Reservations for the banquet should be made with Mrs. Stella Sell, social chairman.

Dolores Chase Heads BSP Council

Miss Dolores Chase was elected president of the Beta Sigma Phi City Council for 1958-59 at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Greene, Mullan Street.

Reports were given of a donation of $650 to the Girl Scout camp fund; and the ritual dinner.

A combined fun festival and dinner will be held at 6:30 tonight at Mt. Royal School, sponsored by the PTA.

Rawlings WSCS will serve a public ham supper tonight from 5 until 7 in the church basement.

Play Registrations Due At Club June 3

Members of the Cumberland Country Club Playground Association are reminded that there are only two weeks to register children for the 1958 playground season. June 3 is the final registration date.

Cumberland Chapter OES will meet at 8 tonight at the temple.

Is Unitarian Denomination Christian Or Not? Fireworks Flare Over Subject

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Kicking over the traces is an old habit with Unitarians. But if it's carried beyond certain limits, look out for the fireworks.

That's the sort of uproar that is going on now over whether the denomination is Christian or not.

"We are and always have been Christians," declared the Rev. Dr. Duncan Howlett, of Boston's First Unitarian church.

"When anyone says otherwise, a lot of us don't like it."

Nevertheless, some Unitarian clergymen are saying it nowadays, and repercussions are likely at the church's convention in Washington next week.

"It's a crucial issue for us," said the Rev. Dr. Walter D. Kring, of New York's Unitarian All Souls church.

At stake is whether the historic independent - minded church, which has cradled many of America's great intellects, shall evolve beyond its Christian origins, or stay within that broad encampment.

In pulpit after pulpit, sermons have been crackling over the subject each Sunday for weeks.

"Since we're a free religion, those in it should not have to bear the Christian label," said the Rev. Dr. Dale Dewitt, New York's regional director of the American Unitarian Assn.

Dr. Howlett said: "These efforts to de-Christianize Unitarianism mean either a movement devoid of any form and content, or else a kind of eclecticism, with a Shintoism and what have you."

Said Dr. Kring: "The illusion of 'going beyond' Christianity consists largely in not understanding . . . the breadth of the movement from the beginning."

The question has sensitive ramifications both for Unitarians, and the Universalists.

It could affect the current negotiations for merger of the two bodies.

"Some may try to raise this issue," said the Rev. Dr. Philip Giles, of Boston, general superintendent of the Universalist Church.

He added, however, that the Christian - designation problem was common to both.

However, as is true with many Unitarians, any suggestion that Universalists have outgrown their original Christian framework is apt to produce explosions.

"Anybody that says that will get a celestial bum's rush," said the Rev. Dr. Cornelius Greenway, of New York's All Souls Universalist church. "My congregation would have high blood pressure."

The stir began in 1950 when the National Council of Churches, which embraces the major Protestant denominations, set belief in Jesus as "Divine Lord and Savior" as a requirement for membership.

This kept Unitarians and Universalists out, since they don't demand acceptance of Jesus as divine. Many see him only as a great spiritual teacher.

This concept has attracted many people reared in Judaism.

"It's not possible to set one of the great faiths above the other," said the Rev. Dr. Donals Harrington, of New York's Community—Unitarian—church.

"We're not less Christian than anybody else, but more than Christian. We're actively looking for truth and insight from all great faiths.

"The Christian element of exclusiveness and superiority will be washed out in the next 50 years."

Space Flight Problem Seen Near Solution

WASHINGTON (AP)—The method used for recovering test nose cones of two Army Jupiter missiles may be adapted to bring man back from rocket flight into space.

Officials of the Cook Research Laboratories of Morton Grove, Ill., disclosed Wednesday that at the invitation of the Army ballistic missiles agency the company has submitted proposals for a system to bring man back through the atmosphere.

The laboratories devised the combination parachute - flotation equipment which made possible the recovery from Atlantic impact points of Jupiter test cones fired several hundred miles into space on Aug. 8, 1957, and last Sunday.

Spokesmen for the company, headed by Walter C. Hasselhorn, gave some details of the system at a news conference.

Plans are under way for improving the recovery technique to the point where it may be used for bringing back a man from a brief excursion into space in the nose cone, a spokesman said.

In experiments, chimpanzees have been fired to high altitudes, although not into the fringes of space, it was said.

Laboratory experts believe that later, with improved equipment, these or other animals can be used in tests to make the journey safe for man.

Space tests with a passenger in a nose cone may precede the attempt to put a man in an orbiting satellite vehicle. A brief flight to a point several hundred miles above the earth would give scientists valuable information on what to expect in orbital flight, the spokesman said.

The recovery system used by the Army and Cook Laboratories, has several elements, including:

1. A "G-switch" which starts off the sequence of recovery devices.

2. A parachute which opens as the nose cone re-enters the atmosphere to slow the rate of descent which might be as fast as 9,000 miles per hour.

3. A flotation balloon that is ejected a few seconds before impact of the cone with the water.

Pablo Casals Film

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The newspaper Novedades reports the life of Pablo Casals will be filmed in Mexico next year if he approves a script now being written. The famous Spanish anti-Franco cellist-conductor would come to Mexico from his Puerto Rican home in exile to help supervise filming. He's in his early 80s.

Operators Of Potomac Slot Machine Piers Challenge New Maryland Ban

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Operators of Potomac River slot machine piers are not going to give them up without a court fight.

The slot machines were supposed to be silenced June 1 under a law passed by the Maryland legislature in February.

But Circuit Judge Philip H. Dorsey Jr. has granted a stay until the law's constitutionality can be tested.

The injunction was asked by the operator of the Coles Point Tavern, smallest operation of several on the Virginia shore where slot machines and liquor by the drink are legalized with Maryland licenses.

Virginia bans both. But St. Mary's and Charles county in Maryland have issued licenses to the piers which jut out from the Virginia shore. Maryland owns the Potomac River up to the low tide mark.

Judge Dorsey, in issuing the temporary injunction, gave the state of Maryland 10 days to move. Ferdinand C. Sybert, attorney general, said he will "study the advisability of filing a motion to dissovle the injunction."

The 10 days expire May 31—the day before the new law becomes effective.

It does not rescind outright the local option of Maryland counties to grant licenses for slot machines nor does it mention sale of whisky by the drink.

It prohibits licensed slot machines unless their location can be reached by foot from Maryland soil. In order to reach the present Potomac piers, it is necessary to ride into Virginia.

The move to fight the law was anticipated on May 1 when the slot machine operators renewed their licenses for another year.

The Connors brothers, who have 279 slots at Colonial Beach, Va., paid $46,650 although the license would be good for only one month if the law went into effect on time.

The Coles Point Tavern, which obtained the injunction from Judge Dorsey, has only five slots. It is only such establishment licensed by St. Mary's County. The others have licenses from Charles County.

Judge Dorsey's injunction applies to both counties.

Gov. McKeldin sparked the action to void the gambling piers. He was prompted upon learning after returning from a European trip that a converted ferry boat had been licensed at Freestone Point, Va.

Gov. McKeldin is on a European trip. He is due back June 1.

Victor In Fifth District's GOP Race Assailed

BLADENSBURG, Md. (AP) — Not all Republicans will be closing ranks for Maryland's general election in November.

William R. Martin, campaign manager for a losing GOP candidate in southern Maryland's 5th congressional race, told winner Robert E. Ennis of Capitol Heights he would not help him in the race against Democrat Richard E. Lankford.

"To do so would be to put my party, the party which I love, above the welfare of my country," Martin wrote to Ennis.

Martin was campaign manager for Frank W. Vanderhoof of Bladensburg, one of three candidates for Republican nomination from the 5th district. The other loser was Henry W. L. Fricke II of Laurel.

Martin said there are many reasons for his refusal to support Ennis. Among them he listed the candidate's "stand on the race question."

"Your resignation from the Republican Club over Little Rock was an insult to the basic principles of the Republican Party," Martin said. ". . .Your appearance at the N.A.A.C.P. meeting in Baltimore last week proved to me that you were a hypocrite.

"I sincerely hope that some other candidate will put himself before the voters in November," the letter read. "I do not believe that you or Lankford are truly representative or qualified to serve as congressman from the Fifth District of Maryland."

Baltimore Ad Tax 'Trial' Set

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore City's controversial tax on advertising goes on trial for its life on June 16.

Circuit Judge Joseph L. Carter, who set the trial date Thursday, set aside three days for hearing the case.

The city administration last fall approved a four per cent tax on the sale of advertising space and a two per cent tax on all gross receipts on advertising. The levies became effective last January 1.

Newspaper publishers, radio and television station owners, advertising agencies and retail stores filed suit to invalidate the ordinances, contending they were unconstitutional and discriminatory.

Last February, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, who had introduced the two measures, suddenly announced he would seek repeal of the taxes. The City Council subsequently repealed the two acts, but not until after the first of the year.

The complaintants have proceeded with their suit.

'Booming' Jets Bring Protest

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Washington Countians, contending they are fed up with jet planes breaking the sound barrier over them, plan to protest to the Air Force.

Residents of the Hagerstown area say that they have been racked by loud booms, resulting when a plane goes faster than sound, for the past 10 days. Some citizens have reported dips in the planes' vapor trails, indicating they were diving to break the barrier.

Mrs. Ethel Needy of suburban Hagerstown said one of the shock waves cracked a water tank in her bathroom. Water seeped through to the kitchen. Mrs. Richard Smith of nearby Keedysville reported a fifth window pane was cracked Wednesday.

Gov. McKeldin Plans To Introduce Ike

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Gov. McKeldin plans to return from a European trip in time to introduce President Eisenhower as commencement speaker at Mount St. Mary's college in Emmitsburg June 2.

McKeldin is visiting France, Spain and Germany in connection with the University of Maryland's overseas education program.

He had planned to fly home about June 2 but set his return for June 1 when the invitation was received from Mount St. Mary's.

The Emmitsburg ceremony will be the first of three Maryland graduation exercises which Eisenhower will attend. He will deliver the commencement address at the U.S. Naval Academy on June 4 and will accompany Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to graduation exercises at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore on June 10.

Bay Drowning Victim Identified

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The body of a woman found on Chesapeake Bay beach near Deale has been identified as Betty Eva Crawford of Fairhaven.

County police said the 47-year-old woman, who apparently drowned, had disappeared from her home last Thursday.

Her body was discovered Wednesday at the water's edge about one mile north of her bayfront home.

County medical officials have sent the body to the Baltimore morgue for an autopsy.

U.S. To Return Range

TOKYO (AP)—The U.S. Army will return the Somagahara firing range to Japan next month. It is the 5,600-acre reservation where the Girard case began. A Japanese court gave William S. Girard a suspended prison sentence of three years for the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman scrap collector on the range.

Mice Sent Into Space

CHICAGO (AP) — The Air Force has begun rocketing mice into space and will follow later with other animals in preparation for future manned flights, a general said Wednesday.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, Air Research and Development Command, described the program—known as Project Able—in a missile age briefing before the Air Force Assn.

Anti-American Feeling Brings Policy Review

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Instead of yielding to a first reaction of "to hell with them," the United States is adopting an attitude of self-analysis following recent demonstrations against her in foreign countries.

Individual statements and letleters to the editors indicate a considerable public feeling of weariness in the long effort to convince the world's peoples that, despite the complexities of trying to be friends with everyone, the nation's intentions are good.

Congress has reacted differently.

The administration foreign aid bill went through the House with far less difficulty than had been anticipated. The Senate is now moving to restore such cuts as were made.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has announced an inquiry, first into relations with Latin America, with the ultimate aim of finding means to improve relations generally.

That can only mean two things. More money, and acceptance of the foreign aid and reciprocal trade programs as permanent parts of policy rather than as tide-overs from one emergency to the next.

The atmosphere in Latin America is partly attributable to economic policy which for several years has put the Orient and Europe ahead of the home folks.

There is trade trouble with Japan and always the imbalance with Europe.

There is a definite Communist policy to promote these troubles, and to take advantage of them with public demonstrations.

Anti-American reactions in Algeria, Lebanon, Formosa and elsewhere have been attributable to other causes—frequently to United States association with colonial or formerly colonial powers.

Downright failure to consider local customs and probable local reaction is another cause. This represents personnel failure and inadequate staffing in both the diplomatic and military services, and unconcern by American free enterprisers.

The recession, at a time when the Soviet Communists are making a great show of technical and business progress, also is having an important impact on people's minds.

At the same time, it creates doubt at home about foreign aid programs during economic trouble here.

There is also some feeling that peoples who fail to understand the American way are just too dumb for hope.

Paris More Concerned About People Around De Gaulle Than General Himself

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS (AP) — French Cabinet members—and American observers as well—are more concerned about the people around Charles De Gaulle than they are about the general himself.

He looms over the horizon like a guardian angel or a Gargantua, depending on your political opinions. Frenchmen have always looked upon him as a great patriot.

His presence on the horizon has solidified the present government in office—but just how solidly it rests is a gambler's guess. Most deputies feel that their powers—they now run the government in great detail—would be much reduced under De Gaulle.

One more crisis might touch off the hue and cry that would oblige the Assembly to accept his leadership. Knowing that, many deputies are going to try to ward it off.

The Assembly is by no means a unified body, however. When it again faces the three problems which have dumped one Cabinet after another, the same pressures and the same obstinacy may show.

Socialists and Independents — both needed to create a majority in the Assembly—are poles apart on what to do about Algeria. They are apart on how to reform the constitution. They are apart on how to balance the budget.

If they break again on any one of these issues—or if the government is unable to restore its authority over Algeria—the jig may be up.

What will happen if De Gaulle comes in?

There are a great many questions and De Gaulle has refused to answer any of them. He has not outlined a financial or political program.

His persistent answer is this: When a government in power can command the respect of the people, many problems will solve easily.

But the people who look at De Gaulle also look at the men around him who would almost inevitably be put in places of power.

Among them is Jacques Soustelle, now in virtual rebellion in Algeria.

Soustelle calls himself a liberal but in the Assembly since 1951 he has voted against what most Frenchmen consider liberal measures.

His idea for Algeria is to incorporate it solidly as a part of France, and give it the same laws as other Frenchmen have. This made him a hero with the French colonials in Algeria and those Arabs who want France to continue running Algeria. It made him the enemy of leaders of the Arab rebellion in Algeria.

Soustelle and De Gaulle have spoken bitterly of the financial and military dependence of France upon America. Some Americans think the advent of De Gaulle might end the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, for in NATO France plays a role much subordinate to America.

Certainly De Gaulle would have with him—if he came to power legally—the almost universal support of the military forces. These include ruthless men eager for political power — and also many wise moderate men.

What would De Gaulle do about the Soviet Union, and the Communists who occupy a quarter of the seats in the French Assembly?

There is no sure answer.

Congress, Considering Official Version Of National Anthem, Runs Into Questions

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has begun considering whether to adopt an official version of the Star-Spangled Banner.

And almost before you could say, "O say can you see," it got itself tangled up in questions.

Suppose an official version became law, could a president send in troops if some school band leader didn't play it the official way? And would there be bootleg Star Spangled Banners, with one knowledgeable audience sitting and a less tune-conscious group standing?

To anyone except, possibly, a congressman, the issue seems simple.

In 1931, Congress adopted the song as our national anthem. Unfortunately, it didn't spell out either the words or the melody. Many a patriotic person thinks this should be corrected, and several bills have been introduced in congress.

Many think it ought to be more singable. Those who think so include Lucy Monroe, who has sung the song 5,000 times, and very stirringly too. She favors some minor tinkering with the high and low notes which, she says, "would allow all of us to join in with greater assurance of joy."

The leadoff man before the House Judiciary subcommittee was Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R) of Arlington, Va. He favors going back to the earliest written version by Francis Scott Key for the official words, and to a melody worked out by the National Music Council.

A special recording had been made for the subcommittee, showing how the tune could be played in different keys for different performers, for a beginning piano player, for example, or the zippy U.S. Army band.

The record caused a mite of uncertainty in the committee room. Mrs. Charles Haig of Washington, D.C., representing the Daughters of the American Revolution, said in a stage whisper, "We ought to stand." But no one did, and the scientific demonstration continued.

Rep. Basil L. Whitener (D) of Gastonia, N.C., said he can't understand what the fuss is about.

"I mentioned it in the barber shop down home, to see what reaction I'd get," Whitener said. "The barber said, 'The devil! We've had one for over 100 years, haven't we?"

Broyhill said he still believes we should have an official "Banner."

Whitener also fretted over possible bootleg Star Spangled Banners. It was he who wondered what would happen if some band took off on an unofficial version. Would part of the crowd rise and the rest remain seated?

Rep. Francis E. Dorn (R) of Brooklyn, a pro-official version man, tried to reassure Whitener. "We'd do as we do now," he said. "We'd stand and pay our respects."

It was Whitener, too, who asked what if a school band director insisted on playing an unofficial version. Would the FBI come in? Would a president send troops?

Rep. Herbert Zelenko (D) of New York tried to allay these fears, pointing out no penalties are involved.

"If someone deviates an eighth of a note," he said, "I know we're not going to have the FBI after him."

When lunch is to be hot, drain canned pear halves and stud with cloves. Broil along with sandwiches until heated and lightly browned. Delicious—and so easy!

House Lists Big Spenders For Lobbying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-seven individuals and organizations each spent more than $10,000 on lobbying activities during January, February and March of this year.

Their financial statements were made public Wednesday by the clerk of the House.

Scores of others registered under the lobbying laws spent less than $10,000 in connection with legislative interests during the three months.

Top spender was the National Assn. of Post Office Clerks, Representing postal employes for whom Congress has voted pay raises. The association reported expenditures of $65,642.

Other big spenders included these:

American Farm Bureau Federation, $24,581; AFL-CIO, $35,331; American Hospital Assn., $10,607; American Medical Assn., $13,504; American Nurses' Assn., $11,395; American Petroleum Institute, $10,954; American Tramp Shipowners Assn., $16,194.

Associated Third Class Mail Users, $13,655; Assn. of American Railroads, $33,798; Council of Mechanical Specialty Contracting Industries, Inc., $19,193; District Lodge No. 44, International Assn. of Machinists, $14,319; Division of Legislation and Federal Relations of the National Education Assn. of the United States, $25,552.

Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America (National Farmers Union), $21,894; Life Insurance Assn. of America, $11,197; National Assn. of Electric gcompanies, $14,391; National Assn. of Letter Carriers, $15,250; National Cotton Council of America, $11,678; National Federation of Federal Employes, $12,005.

Naional Housing Conference, $12,145; National Reclamation Assn., $10,788; National Rivers and Harbors Congress, $10,827; National Small Businessmen's Assn., $10,381; Nationwide Committee of Industry, Agriculture and Labor on Export-Import Policy, $15,335; Retirement Federation of Civil Service Employes of the United States Government, $10,282; Southern States Industrial Council, $23,186; Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, $12,596.

"Man With The Ax" Dies At Age Of 124

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Colorful Francisco Gomez Marfil, who was believed to be 124 years old and who bore the title of "The Man With the Ax," died Wednesday.

If his associates and his own memory were correct, he was born before Victoria became queen of England and while his adopted state of Texas was an outlying province of Mexico.

Until he became ill six months ago, he walked about this southern Texas city with his single-bladed ax balanced on his shoulder. The ax was his trademark. He actively made his living until 1950 as a wood cutter.

He came to Brownsville from Mexico but his home town there is unknown. He and associates recall that he was a brick mason here on the church of the Immaculate Conception, started in 1851 or 1952. The church still stands.

$1,000,000 Idea Man

MR. F. SCHIAVONE

A big, $1,000,000 idea to help speed the return of prosperity has been announced by the Aetna Finance manager here.

Throughout America, he pointed out, people are being urged to "Buy Now" and help business. The Aetna Company has set aside $250,000 cash for the people of this area. Over $1,000,000 of increased business activity would result from getting this money into immediate circulation.

Residents here are invited to apply for amounts of $50 to $1500, then spend it for needed things or to pay bills. The money may be obtained on name only, the same day.

"We don't recommend needless borrowing," said the Aetna manager, "but very often it is a sensible way to get new things or a new, fresh start." Those interested are asked to phone or see Aetna Finance, 48 N. Centre St., PA 4-6800. (Loans over $300 made under Md. Industrial Finace Act.)

I want to thank my many friends in Allegany county for their loyalty and support during my campaign in the recent primary election.

With kindest regards

W. A. STROTHER

Television and Radio

by John Crosby

The Synthetic Actor

A man named John P. Maloney writes in to say we are approaching the time when television shows will be 100 per cent pasted together out of essentially synthetic elements, that nothing will be what it seems to be. What, you ask, is the pasted-up show?

"Well, there's the trick of having the singer stand before the camera and wiggle his or her lips while they play the singer's latest smash hit record. Then there's the business of turning on chuckles, sniggers, laughs, gasps, groans, giggles and cheers while humorous folk read the jokes off the cardboards in front of them." The chuckles, he points out, come frequently from electronic boxes that can reproduce synthetically anything from a snicker to a belly laugh or they come off sound tapes made from long dead shows and are often emitted by long dead people.

And that's just the half of it. Movie stars have had their singing voices dubbed in by somebody else. On television we haven't quite got around to that yet but we have singers replaced in dance numbers by specialists in that art. The guy's complexion comes out of a box, his hair out of a store, the applause comes from a machine, the voice comes off a record and the dance steps are executed by somebody else. And then they put it on film just to reduce the margin of human error to zero.

That leaves only the ratings. "Ratings?" says Maloney. "They'll be high, high. In fact, published scientifically computed ratings will prove that over twice our total population gobbled up the show and loved every minute of it. The audience will be just as synthetic as the show."

And while the synthetics flourish evilly, the problem of the real people in the industry grows apace. Television's recession started way last summer when the word went out that the market was soft, very soft. That meant that clients simply weren't buying either what the networks or their own ad agencies dangled in front of them.

Just to give you an idea how bad the situation is, "Variety" reports that Matinee Theater, which closes down on June 27, handed out paychecks to 2,674 actors in its day. That's a lot of actors. Off the payroll will be some 270 people, including nine directors and four producers. Those are added to the directors and producers and live cameramen and technicians left stranded by the end of "Studio One" and "Kraft Theater."

Being a live cameraman may be a profession about as useful as the manufacture of buggy whips in a year or so. Many of them are now practicing their art quiz contestants. One of the richer quiz package tycoons is Dan Enright, of Barry and Enright, who has just come out with a spirited defense of his quiz shows which is nothing if not candid.

"Put a good quiz show opposite a good dramatic show, give them equal promotion and publicity, and I'll bet on the quiz show any time. The success of the quizzes and the Westerns are a frank appeal to certain animalistic instincts, the Western to the instinct to witness violence and the quiz to greed. I wonder if we really are underestimating the intelligence of our audiences. Even when the viewers are occasionally attracted to a good classic drama by promotion and publicity and actually find they enjoy it, they will go back to the quiz show the following week. The drama requires too much effort to enjoy."

The last sentence is as synical a rationalization as any I ever heard. Years ago, Hollywood used to talk about the thirteen-year-old mentality but at least Hollywood tailored drama for that age level. Now drama itself, at any age level, is considered above our capabilities and, by George, if television continues to pander solely to the instincts of greed and violence, perhaps Enright will be dead right.

Pigeon Dirt In W.Va. Capitol Draws Fire

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Independent Republican Daily Mail took the Republican Administration at the Statehouse to task Thursday for its untidy housekeeping.

"West Virginia's beautiful capitol is dirty," thundered The Mail.

"East wing, west wing, main unit — it's dirty," continued Political Editor Robert Mellace, whose page one report was accompanied by pictures of pigeon droppings and some hand-lettering in the thick dust.

The account said one state official got enough pigeon refuse from an east wing porch to fertilize his garden.

"Main corridors are so dusty that you can follow the trails of pedestrians who track it," Mellace reported.

He said that last week a child attending the Golden Horseshoe ceremonies became ill and walked out on the porch overlooking the landscaped circle. Evidence of the child's illness was still around yesterday, almost a week later.

"What's the trouble?" Mellace asked. "Didn't the Republican campaign pledge to 'clean out the Statehouse' apply to the everyday maintenance of the state's pride and joy?

"Gov. Underwood's personal choice for this responsibility is Carl A. Johnson, director of the general services division. He doesn't agree the capitol is any dirtier than it has been.

" 'It's certainly in better shape than when I came in,' Johnson says. And, he adds, visitors always remark to guides that, not only is it the most beautiful capitol they seen, but also the best kept."

Johnson was quoted that he needed more people to do the general cleaning. As for the pigeons, Johnson said:

Picture Shows 'Sack' Look Was Fashion In 1923

There is nothing new under the sun, the adage goes, and judging from a picture of the 1923 convention of the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association the present day fashions were the mode in Cumberland that year.

Registered for the two-day convention of the association and its auxiliary, which got under way this morning at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Koch of Lima, Ohio.

Koch brought with him a picture of the 1923 convention crowd that shows the women wearing what was the height of fashion then—and what is now known as the "sack" look.

Arlington Faces Own 'Civil War' Over Integration

By BEM PRICE

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — A new sort of civil war, with Southerner arrayed against Southerner, may begin here.

Virginia has declared a policy of massive resistance to any form of school integration. It is one of seven states still holding that solid line.

But before the year is out, the nation may well see Arlington County arguing the rights of a community against the state.

It could begin an erosive process that would leave the South split into islands of segregation.

In some measure, the process has begun. Once there were 17 states in the pro-segregation ranks. Now only in Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida is there no integration whatsoever in public schools.

Four years ago Sunday, the Supreme Court handed down a unanimous opinion declaring it unconstitutional to bar Negroes from public schools solely because of race.

In the years since, resisting states have erected a series of legal barricades to integration. As a last-ditch measure, each of those remaining in the solid line has, in one form or another, set up machinery to close public schools altogether, either singly or collectively.

Florida and Louisiana, for example, have laws permitting the closing of schools under the state's police powers — that is, the authority to preserve law and order. The other five states have laws whereby any school or school system is automatically closed, —and all state aid eliminated, if a member of the opposite race is admitted.

Virginia is one of these. But Arlington, a county within a city, may give the nation the strange spectacle of a community defying the state on the matter of school integration.

It will find an urban area pitted against rural sections where emotionalism over integration runs high.

Fundamentally, the basic question is whether federal courts can enforce their orders in the face of state defiance.

For Virginia — and the other six states— the more relevant issue is whether public schools are to be integrated in compliance with federal court orders or closed altogether.

If Arlington, which has only 1,400 Negro students among its 23,000 total, fights to maintain its excellent public school system and wins, it will be the first penetration of the d o n't-give-an-inch states by integrationists.

In the seven states that have no public school integration, there are 11 suits in federal courts to break the pattern, five of them in Virginia alone. There is no suit pending from Mississippi. One case from South Carolina has been decided against segregation —but no action toward implementation has been taken.

Three of the Virginia cases drew closer to decision last week. A federal judge order Charlottesville to begin desegregation with the start of the September term. In another case the same was indicated for public schools in Newport News and Norfolk, with a hearing slated for June 7.

In the Arlington case, seven Negroes are seeking entry into four white schools. There is apparently no room left for legal maneuvers to delay a showdown. All that remains to be done in Arlington's case is for a federal judge to set a date for the beginning of integration. It probably will be in September.

If the schools are closed, the state is authorized to make tuition grants to individual students desiring to attend private schools.

Under Virginia law the governor has the discretion to reopen a closed school system. Gov. J. Lindsay Almond is pro-segregation.

While members of the Arlington School Board are resigned to a temporary closing of the schools, there is considerable evidence Arlington is going to fight to maintain its public school system, which ranks as one of the best in the nation.

Arlington County's Council of Parent-Teachers Assns. has voted unanimously to oppose the closing of public schools if integration occurs.

Blanton B. Hanbury, head of the corporation, says the private school plan could not operate more than a year without state aid. Currently the state supplies $412,300 of the county's $760,529 school budget.

In Arlington the five - member county school board is split along liberal-conservative lines with the liberals having a one-vote majority. Once the school board was elected, but the county's privilege of controlling its school affairs through the ballot was removed by legislature action last year. The board now is appointed by the County Superivisors.

James G. Stockard, chairman of the Arlington School Board, says that officially the board is unprepared for what happens next. "We have done absolutely no planning since about two years ago. (At that time limited integration was planned.) Arlington does not have the initiative in this. We are taking orders from the state."

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Campbell, former board member now on the P-TA Council, puts the problem this way: "The schools will have to close first. People here just can't believe it is going to happen. We either have public schools for all the people—or no schools at all."

Some private individuals in Arlington—who decline to be named —say that if state funds are withdrawn they will go into Federal Court and seek an injunction on the grounds they are not being given equal treatment in relation to other counties.

What happens in Arlington is vital to the Deep South. It could mean school chaos. Or it could mean a new pattern is beginning to emerge.

Mystery Solved

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — Miss M. E. Herrington's mailbox mystery is solved.

A week of watchful waiting paid off in detection of the culprit who had been pulling letters from her mailbox and strewing them about.

It turned out to be a starling. The bird had cleared the box, made a nest and laid an egg.

OPEN MONDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9 P. M.

Lutherans To Hold Synod Convention Here On Monday

The first convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland to be held in Cumberland since 1905 will open Monday.

St. John's Lutheran Church, Fourth and Arch streets, will be host to the convention. About 275 are expected to attend. The event will open with a Holy Communion service Monday evening and will conclude Thursday, May 29, with a business session.

Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, Baltimore, will give the sermon at the communion service and will also preside at business sessions.

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland consists of 160 organized congregations in Maryland, the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia. These congregations are served by 112 parish pastors. There are 106,182 baptized members of the Lutheran Congregations represented, of whom 73,119 are adult confirmed members. In addition to the pastors serving parishes, there are 68 clergymen in the Maryland Synod, who are in executive positions, or who are retired. Delegates to the convention will include all pastors and one layman from each congregation.

The last time the Synod held its convention in Cumberland was on October 19, 1905. Previous to that year, the sessions were held in this city in 1896, 1888, 1878, 1859, 1948, 1838, 1831, and 1822. Previous to 1958 the Synod met at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, Pa., for 17 years.

Features of the convention will include the service of Holy Communion on Monday evening, the presentation of the work of the United Lutheran Church in America on Tuesday evening, the reception of new congregations into the Synod and the installation of the synodical director of parish education Tuesday evening, and the service of ordination of men to the Lutheran ministry Wednesday evening.

On Monday evening, the Lutherans of Maryland will formally be introduced to the New Common Service adopted by the bodies of the National Lutheran Council, and printed in the early part of this month. This book was a product of the cooperation between a majority of the Lutherans in America.

On Tuesday evening, Dr. Charles M. Cooper, president of the Ministerium Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, will present the message on the state of the denomination. Dr. Cooper will discuss the work of the boards and agencies of the church, and will outline the results of cooperative effort of the 4,000 ULCA congregations during the past year. In addition, on Tuesday evening, three congregations will be officially welcomed into the Synod, and the Rev. Roland Ries, of Baltimore, will be installed as the Synodical Director of Parish Education.

An ordination service will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. Ordained will be Ronald Fearer, a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Albert Weber, a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Donald Brake, Washington, a son of a former pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, and Robert Huddle, the assistant pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The business sessions of the convention will be conducted on the mornings and afternoons of Tuesday and Wednesday, and the morning of Thursday. Sessions begin at 8:30 and 1:30, closing at noon and 5 p. m. Devotional periods begin each session. Devotional Leader for the convention will be the Rev. Dr. Harold C. Letts, executive secretary of the Board of Social Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America. Of interest during the business sessions will be the discussions concerning the plans for cooperative action by Maryland Lutherans in 1959, including plans for the construction of a Synodical Camp and Conference Center.

Meals will be served to the delegates at noon and evening of Tuesday and Wednesday, on Wednesday morning, and Thursday noon. The women of the several parish auxiliaries are preparing menus, and will serve the meals. Other hospitality arrangements are being made by members of the host church.

Visitors are welcome at all sessions of the Synod Convention, which will be held in St. John's Lutheran Church.

Trial Date Changed

The trial of Harry C. Boden, Rockwood, Pa., man who is charged with being an accomplice of his brother, Melvin Boden, in the slaying of Melvin's wife, Mrs. Mary Boden, last November, has been moved to Monday in Somerset County Circuit Court. The trial had been scheduled to start Wednesday.

Underwriters To Honor Four At Dinner Today

The Cumberland Life Underwriters Association will honor four member agents at a luncheon meeting today at noon at Central YMCA.

Scheduled to receive national quality awards at the meeting are Olin B. Logsdon, Raymond Neder, Norbert O'Donnell and Norman F. Geatz Jr.

Try plumping dried fruits — peaches, pears, prunes, apricots —with hot apple juice. (4 cups of juice to 2 cups fruit.) Just pour over and let stand overnight, adding maybe a stick of cinnamon as an extra flourish. Then chill the plumped fruit and serve.

A distinct dessert for special guests is canned pear halves, topped with whipped cream into which crushed peppermint has been folded.

W.Va. Residents Have Record Income For 1957

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginians received a record $2,924,000,000 in personal income last year.

The total was 3.9 per cent and 109 million dollars higher than the previous record set in 1956.

The information was part of that collected by the research department of the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce and made public this week.

The prosperity of last year brought the per capita personal income of West Virginians up to $1,480 from $1,433 in 1956. But despite the rise such income remained 26 per cent below the national average of $2,001.

Only in Ohio County did per capita personal income—$2,184—exceed the national average. Marshall and Hancock counties were the second and third highest in the state, with $1,947 and $1,887 respectively.

Jackson led all counties in the rate of increase in personal income, with 83 per cent. The total went up to $52,632,000 in 1957 from $28,713,000 in 1956.

Increases in other counties were relatively small, ranging from 10.4 in Pleasants downward.

Kanawha led all counties in aggregate personal income for the year with $426,025,000. It was followed by Cabell ($188,306,000). In eight other counties such income exceeded 100 million dollars.

The dollar volume of retail sales in the state hit $1,730,000,000 last year to exceed by 130 million the previous high, a rise of 8.1 per cent.

The United States rate of increase in such sales for the two periods was only 5.4 per cent.

Despite the topping of personal incomes in 10 counties of 100 million dollars, retail sales last year were that high or higher in only three counties, namely Kanawha, Cabell and Ohio.

West Virginians spend 59 per cent of their total personal income during the year at retail outlets within the state, but the large cities monopolized this business.

Ohio County retail merchants, for example, received 82 per cent of the county's total personal income. Retailers in Cabell drew 80 per cent; Upshur, 72; Kanawha and Greenbrier, 71; Randolph, 70; and the remainder less.

Reservoir May Be Used For Pool

Cumberland stands a good chance of securing property for a swimming pool in the North End of town, the decision pending action by the Board of Commissioners of Allegany County and the City Council.

The property involved is the old stone reservoir on Wills Mountain, on county farm property, which County Commissioner James Orr on Tuesday suggested be razed to eliminate the possibility of liability resulting from accidents or drowning.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan and C. Eugene Mason, city recreation director, inspected the site after reading of Orr's statement Tuesday. Both were of the opinion that the site is a "natural" for development which would add to the beauty of the area, as well as furnish a swimming pool for the youth of the North End.

Keegan said he will request the Mayor and Council to investigate the possibility of obtaining the property at Monday's council session, pointing out that the acquistion would be valuable to the city and an asset to the program of the City Recreation Department.

When contacted yesterday Commissioner Orr and William A. Wilson, president of the Board of County Commisisoners, both said they would be in favor of deeding the property to the city as long as there are no legal entanglements.

Orr and Wilson said the county would thus be rid of a problem which has plagued the board for many years. Both agreed that the youth of city would also benefit.

Mason said it is the opinion of members of the city engineering staff that the reservoir could be converted to use as a swimming pool with minimum modifications and expenditures.

The heavy stone walls of the structure would eliminate a major cost item in the construction of a swimming pool, Mason pointed out. The only problem, he continued, would be a modification of the floor of the reservoir, so that it would slope to a shallow end for beginner swimmers and youngsters.

The spring-fed pool would require the construction of a filter process building, Mason said, in order to conform with Health Department regulations.

The site of the reservoir makes it easily tied in with the North End Playground, and it could become one of the beauty spots of the city with a minimum of effort and expenditures, the city officials said.

However, any such work could not be completed for this year's swimming season, Mason stated.

Paris Viewpoint

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper Le Monde in whimsical mood is thankful Premier Pierre Pflimlin's name is unpronounceable even to a French tongue. In an editorial it told him: ". . . You will never become a slogan . . . unless you change your name (and that would be a pity) . . . One can hardly imagine that in 15 or 20 years there will exist Pflimlinism."

Portable Radio-Phone

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet engineer Leonid Kuprianovic is credited with inventing a portable 18-ounce radio-telephone. The labor newspaper Trud said it is capable of reaching any Soviet telephone number and of receiving even Sputnik signals. But you can't buy the gadget. It's not in production.

SERVING WITH MARINES— Second Lt. Ronald C. Sisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Sisk of 518 Fectig Avenue, has been stationed with the Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N. C., since he completed the officer's basic training course last fall. Lt. Sisk, a member of a transportation unit, has been playing baseball with the camp's team during the spring months.

Lakin Hospital Head Resigns

CHARLESTON (AP) — The resignation of Dr. Simon O. Johnson, superintendent of Lakin State Hospital for the past 11 years, was announced Thursday by the Department of Mental Health.

The announcement said Johnson has accepted a position as director of professional services "at one of the larger Veterans Administration hospitals, but he is not free to divulge the name of the hospital at this time." The resignation was effective Thursday.

The department said Dr. Mildred Bateman, clinical director at Lakin, will act as superintendent of the mental institution until a new superintendent is appointed.

Church Precedent

WARSAW, Ind. (AP) — Neighborhood House, an all-Negro Methodist church in Fort Wayne, Ind., was admitted to the Northern Indiana Conference of the church Thursday.

It was the first such transfer from the denomination's Central (Negro) Jurisdiction to any of the three conferences in Indiana.

Aboriginal Girl Hopes For A 'Civilized' Life

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — For four weeks Ruth Daylight led a life such as no other full-blood Aboriginal girl of 14 has ever lived before.

She flew 6,000 miles in turbojet airplanes to visit Australia's big cities. She stayed in fine homes and in an air-conditioned hotel with a telephone beside her bed.

She saw ships and trains for the first time, and took her first ride in a big shiny automobile.

Most impressive of all, she was presented to the Queen Mother during her royal visit to Australia earlier this year.

Then the feted, envied little girl went home — to an Aboriginal humpy on the bank of a creek. In this filthy, three-foot-high hovel Ruth lives with her mother, four brothers and sisters and a dog.

How did she come by her unusual adventure?

Ruth was one of five children from the back country selected by the Australian Inland Mission to meet the Queen Mother and visit the cities. AIM is a church organization chartered to care primarily for pioneering white settlers but which draws no color line.

The only full-blood Aborigine among the five, Ruth wore a starched, gleaming white dress, white ankle socks and black pumps at the royal presentation. She made a big impression on the Queen Mother with her smile and graceful curtsy.

"What will be her future?" the Queen Mother anxiously asked Gov. Gen. Sir William Slim and the AIM's superintendent, the Rev. J. Fred McKay.

The pastor later told newsmen he had been unable to assure the Queen Mother that Ruth's future would be happy.

As for how Ruth lives now, apparently no one knew the details until a reporter visited her after her return home. Then the whole Commonwealth was shocked.

Douglas Lockwood, a Melbourne Herald reporter, found the Daylight humpy about 200 yards out of Hall's Creek, a township of a few score people. It's in the dry, dusty northeastern part of western Australia, about 2,500 miles from Perth, the state capital.

A canvas sheet draped loosely over four corner posts and rough rails cut from bush timber.

Lockwood found Ruth wearing a nylon dress given her for her fabulous trip to the big cities. Her mother Ida, of the Moola Boola tribe, was wearing a torn and dirty shapeless dress.

"Are you happy here?" Lockwood asked Ruth.

"No," she said. "I want to get out of here. I want to learn dressmaking. I would like most of all to go to Melbourne or Perth."

Lockwood said Ida Daylight had told him they lived mostly on tinned food, lolly water (a sort of soda pop) and sweets (candy).

"Occasionally they are given a goanna (big lizard) or a kangaroo by other natives."

Ruth's father is not there to hunt for them. He works as a stockman at Lamboo cattle station 30 miles away, and visits the family about once a month.

Lockwood says: "He seldom sends them money."

Ida earns one pound ($2.25) a week as laundress at the nearby Australian Inland Mission hostel, and gets 2 pounds 15 shillings ($6.15) child endowment from the government.

Lockwood said Ruth's father wants the girl to leave her schooling at Hall's Creek and go to the cattle station with him.

But there is some hope for Ruth. Two Melbourne families have offered her a home. A woman says she can give Ruth a room of her own and arrange for her to be taught dressmaking.

In Perth, H. Graham, acting minister for native welfare, says a Native Affairs Department official will discuss Ruth's future with her parents. Everything will be done, Graham says, to give her a chance to live a civilized life.

Meanwhile, in the humpy beside the creek, Ruth dreams of big cities, of pleasant homes with ceilings high enough so you can stand upright and of starched, gleaming white dresses.

End Adv May 18.

Death Penalty Sought

LONDON (AP) — Women delegates of Britain's Conservative party demanded this week restoration of the death penalty for sex murders.

Capital punishment for rape killings was abolished by the Homicide Act of 1957.

MISSILEMAN — Pvt. Samuel R. Merrill, 322 North Mechanic Street, this area's first Army recruit to apply and qualify as a missileman, has been selected missileman of the month at the 852d AA Missile Battalion in Milwaukee, Wis. He enlisted at the local station in October last year. He attained this special Army rating for his superior appearance, military bearing and knowledge of the Army and his duties.

British Bank Rate Cut

LONDON (AP)—Britain Thursday cut the official bank interest rate from 6 to 5½ per cent and announced good progress in its battle to boost the value of the pound sterling.

Amnesty Bill Passes

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies Thursday passed President Arturo Frondizi's bill of amnesty.

The loosely worded law provides freedom for a wide range of political prisoners and exiles. But whether it includes ex-dictator Juan D. Peron will have to be decided in the courts. Peron is in the Dominican Republic.

The bill, passed by the Senate last week, now goes to Frondizi for his signature.

Maple sugar time is here . . . so for a springtime dessert sprinkle thick shavings of same through and over canned apple sauce, and serve with a dollop of whipped cream.

Adjustor Claim Ruled Binding

CHARLESTON (AP) — An insurance company must live up to an agreement made by one of its adjusters, State Insurance Commissioner C. Judson Pearson has ruled.

In the case made public Thursday in the Insurance Department's bulletin to insurance companies and their agents, an adjuster contacted a property damage claimant and obtained a written release for an agreed amount of payment.

Then the adjuster forwarded the release and the payment agreement to his company's home office, the bulletin said, adding:

"The home office claim department found that it was a case of contributory negligence and that the claim should have been denied. Therefore, the company refused to pay.

"We suggested to this company that the adjuster, with complete knowledge of the facts, had secured a binding release and that the company was obligated to pay the agreed sum. The claim was paid.

"A release, although obtained prior to tender of payment, is a contract between the liability carrier and the claimant, and the company is not at liberty to breach the contract merely because it was a poor bargain."

Paint Bids Opened By Road Commission

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Sherwin - Williams Co. was the apparent low bidder Thursday on 119,490 gallons of white reflectorized paint to be bought for the state Road Commission for highway marking.

Bids were opened by the State Purchasing Division. The 119,490 gallons was divided into two lots on a geographical basis.

On 63,490 gallons for delivery to Road Commission districts in Northern West Virginia, the Sherwin - Williams bid ranged from $2.35 to $2.46½ cents per gallon, depending upon point of delivery. The company's total price for that lot was $151,428.

Sherwin - Williams bid from $2.36 to $2.42 per gallon, for a total price of $133,430, on 56,000 gallons for delivery to districts in the southern part of the state.

$2,160,000 For Hospitals Approved

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Board of Health tentatively allocated $2,160,000 Thursday in federal aid for hospital construction at Wheeling, Clarksburg, Parkersburg and West Virginia University in Morgantown.

The projects and amounts of tentative allocations of federal money under the Hill - Burton Act are:

Ohio Valley General Hospital, Wheeling, 103 - bed addition to the nurses' residence and training school, $750,000.

Union Protestant Hospital, Clarksburg, toward construction of a new 107 - bed hospital, $519,000.

Camden - Clark Memorial Hospital, Parkersburg, toward construction of a four - story addition with 62 general hospital beds and a new x-ray department, $391,000.

WVU Medical Center, further aid on construction, $500,000.

Bids For Reserve Center Are Opened

HUNTINGTON — The R. N. Hewitt Construction Co. of South Charleston was apparent low bidder Thursday to construct an Army Reserve training center at East Rainelle.

The firm submitted to the Army Corps of Engineers a base bid of $120,226. The government estimate for the work was $116,156.

Hewitt also submitted the low bid on the project to include fencing, seeding, exterior lights, sidewalks, and paving, totaling $138,404.

W.Va. Observatory To Get Telescope

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 85-foot radio-telescope has been marked for delivery to the new National Radio Astronomy Observatory under construction at Green Bank, W. Va., it was reported Thursday.

Y.; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home.

JESSE J. YATES

Jesse James Yates, 66, of 223 South Lee Street, died suddenly yesterday at Cumberland Police Headquarters where he was employed as janitor.

Mr. Yates had just finished washing one of the cruiser cars and had started on another when he became ill. He sat down on nearby steps and a few minutes later was stricken with a heart attack.

One of the officers found him slumped over the steps and he was pronounced dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mr. Yates had been employed at Police Headquarters for about 25 years. He was originally employed as a watchman when the city's jail quarters were located in the present building that houses the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

Several years later he was named janitor, a position he held until his death.

He was a native of Franklintown, W. Va., and was a son of the late John and Emma (Mash) Yates.

Also surviving besides his widow, Lina (Smith) Yates, are three sons, Richard, New York City; Charles, this city, and Emanuel Yates, New York; a daughter, Mrs. Anna Washington, this city; two brothers, William Yates, Johnstown, Pa., and Clarence Yates, Cleveland, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Jackson, also of Cleveland.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. William Claybon, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church, will officiate and burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

The family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

What About Those Old Excise Taxes?

They bring in the money, and at a time when the Treasury deficit gets larger month by month. That is always a consideration to the fore on reducing certain excise taxes and eliminating others.

The Treasury lists $10.9 billion as collected from "excise taxes" for calendar year 1957. But $6.3 billion of this total came from a group that nobody proposes disturbing now—the ones on alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, gasoline, documentary stamps. That left $4.6 billion from from those of which some, at least, are on the defensive.

The 10 per cent tax on passenger cars brought in $1.3 billion; the 3 per cent on freight, $478 million; the 10 per cent on passenger tickets, $224 million. If these are cut to help the depressed auto and railroad industries, pressure for cuts could be expected from other lines of business. And the Treasury got $343 million last year from the 10 per cent on luggage, handbags, jewelry, furs, and toilet preparations alone.

Little rhyme or reason now pertains to the excise tax structure as a whole. Though some excise taxes bring in too little to justify collecting them, to remove them would probably be politically inexpedient because they're on alleged "luxuries" — safe deposit boxes, phonograph records, long distance calls, cameras, mechanical pens and pencils, sporting goods, light bulbs.

As for local telephone service ($360 million), TV and radio sets ($152 million), tires and inner tubes ($270 million), electrical home appliances ($113 million), if users object, "These aren't luxuries today," they're asked, "Where else would you go for the money?" And if some intrepid, not to say foolhardy, soul should reply, "How about putting the rates on higher incomes back where they were before the 1954 income tax reduction?" he'd get only screams of dismay anguish and defiance.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Napoleonism

The social and political revolution in Europe and in the Western world, since the French Revolution, has been to find a method of government in which the whole nation would exercise the right of choice and at the same time avoid anarchy.

The French Revolution failed because of Napoleonism. France has never been able to overcome its fear of another Napoleon. Again and again, military leaders arose to lead France to glory but the French people have resisted the temptation. France's curious form of government, proportional representation with multiple parties, is a product of the fear of Napoleonism — a fear which has been aggravated by the emergence of dictators subsequent to World War I—Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, Franco, to mention only the important ones.

It is for this reason that de Gaulle has been feared. Ordinarily de Gaulle would have been regarded as one of France's great heroes. His maintenance of a French Government - in - Exile during World War II; his rebuilding of the French army while the war was in process; his rejection of the blandishments of Vichy; his insistence that conquered France must be regarded as a primary power and given equality of treatment with the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia—these were heroic acts.

But he was not invited to Yalta because he had irritated Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, who had found him temperamentally difficult to work with. Churchill said that de Gaulle suffered from an inferiority complex. At any rate, it would have been impossible to save any part of Germany if de Gaulle had governed France during the postwar period.

At the end of the war, de Gaulle had been elected the head of the Provisional Government of France with the unanimous confidence of the French people. But he could not last. When de Gaulle fell, he retired sulking to his country home. France was trying during 1945 to write a new constitution which de Gaulle opposed. As a matter of fact, the reason that proportional representation and multiple parties continued in France is that de Gaulle's opposition to a reasonable constitution in 1946 forced the people to take sides on the constitutional question and out of fear of Napoleonism, they voted de Gaulle down.

The Communist Party, under the leadership of Thorez, took advantage of the fear of Napoleonism to run an anti-Fascist campaign which gave them enormous power in France. In the election of November 10, 1946, the Communists won 163 seats—a gain of 18 seats.

De Gaulle's unfriendliness to President Roosevelt arose from the unwillingness of Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin to have de Gaulle at Yalta. Roosevelt had declined de Gaulle's invitation to visit him in Paris and instead proposed that de Gaulle visit Roosevelt in Algiers, which de Gaulle declined. De Gaulle was also not invited to the Potsdam Conference. This conversation took place between Stalin and Roosevelt at Yalta and is reported by Charles Bohlen in the official archives:

"Marshal Stalin replied that he had not found de Gaulle a very complicated person, but he felt he was unrealistic in the sense that France had not done very much fighting in this war and de Gaulle demanded full rights with the Americans, British and Russians who had done the burden of the fighting.

"The President said he would now tell the Marshal something indiscreet, since he would not wish to say it in front of Prime Minister Churchill, namely that the British for two years have had the idea of artifically building up France into a strong power which would have 200,000 troops on the eastern border of France to hold the line for the period required to assemble a strong British army. He said the British were a peculiar people and wished to have their cake and eat it too."

Then this occurred:

"Marshal Stalin inquired whether the President thought France should have a zone of occupation, and for what reason.

"The President said he thought it was not a bad idea, but he added that it was only out of kindness.

"Both Marshal Stalin and Mr. Molotov spoke up vigorously and said that would be the only reason to give France a zone . . ."

'Stick With Me, Pal'

Setbacks For U. S. Foreign Policy Have Been Building Up For Years

By Drew Pearson

Traveling through Europe right now, an American gets the impression that the entire roof of American foreign policy has come tumbling down about our ears. Our stanch friend and ally of 175 years, France, is in the throes of a mortal political struggle. Our Vice President was almost killed by our alleged good neighbors in Latin America. And one of the friendliest pro-Western nations in the Near East, Lebanon, is in danger of going over to the Nasser-Soviet bloc.

On top of all this, Russia launches a sputnik 100 times larger than anything we have put in the air.

European friends who want to support, and still do support, the United States, ask you a bit reproachfully: "How come?"

The answer is that foreign policy does not collapse suddenly; it erodes. It's like a farmer's field if he doesn't plug the gullies immediately. Or it's like a mouthful of teeth if you don't take care of the fillings. The decay spreads. Pretty soon you begin losing your teeth. That's what's happening to us in the field of foreign affairs.

Take, for instance, the shocking indignities suffered by Vice President Nixon in Latin America. Anyone who has been following Latin-American affairs— and this writer began reporting for El Mundo in Havana and La Nacion in Buenos Aires when Coolidge was in the White House —could see it coming. There was nothing sudden about it.

Asia First Advocate

Latin-American editorials first chided Nixon when he barnstormed through Asia in 1953 and advocated an Asia-first foreign policy for the USA. Latins know, what Nixon apparently didn't know, that Asian-African tropical products compete with Latin America's tropical products. The more coffee, cocoa, tin, etc., we buy from Asia and Africa the less we buy from Latin America. And the more money we send these countries in foreign aid the more it gripes Latin Americans.

Later, when Nixon went to the new African republic of Ghana to help inaugurate its new president, there were more critical murmurs in Latin America. His trip to Ghana may have helped him with Negro voters in Harlem, but it didn't make him the ideal ambassador for a good-will trip to countries which suffer from African competition. Latin Americans read Nixon's ballyhoo about Africa; then, remembering his previous trips to Brazil and Central America, they named him "Fickle Dick."

More Successful Envoy

On the other hand, George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, visiting the same countries which booed and almost murdered Nixon was acclaimed a hero. In Montevideo, where Nixon was hissed because of our tariff on wool, Meany got a rousing reception from the Uruguayan Trade Union Council. He, Dave Dubinsky of the Ladies Garment Workers, and O. A. Knight of the Oil Workers, who accompanied him, joined the Uruguayans in a solemn pledge against dictatorships.

In Peru, where Nixon had such an unpleasant time with university students, Meany got an ovation. Labor leaders seldom enter the U. S. Embassy in Lima, but they turned out for Meany.

Thus, to some extent, the success of a good-will mission depends on the ambassador you send on that mission. A winning smile and a handshake aren't the only things that count.

In Washington last month I sat with the new Ambassador from Venezuela, Hector Santaella, an hour after he presented his credentials to President Eisenhower. The Ambassador was educated at Texas A. & M. University and Harvard, likes the USA. He was strong in his praise for Ike and the cordial reception given him by the President.

Two days later, Eisenhower, despite previous smiles, slapped a new restriction on Venezuelan oil. He even imposed the restriction on the same day he made a nation-wide telecast urging Congress not to impose restrictions on foreign trade.

Venezuelans remember this. More important, they remember the acclaim we gave their former President, dictator Perez Jimenez, and his brutal secret police chief, Pedro Estrada, both charged with the wholesale murder of political opponents.

Vice President Nixon now advocates a new U. S. policy of keeping aloof from dictators. This is important. But the change will have to be made in some very high places and will have to be executed vigorously to wipe out memories of the past. Here is part of the record of American coziness with dictators that will have to be wiped out:

Col. Gordon Moore, Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law, has been closely associated in business deals with dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

John Foster Dulles' son-in-law, Robert Hinshaw, took his family to Trujillo City in Trujillo's private plane and remained there three months at the dictator's expense.

Henry Holland, ex-Assistant Secretary of State for Latin-American Affairs, got on the payroll of dictator Trujillo's mining consultant, also worked with dictator Perez Jimenez in handling various oil problems for American companies.

John Roosevelt (Republican), Charlie Willis, former White House aide, and Wesley Roberts with Douglas Whitlock, both formerly of the GOP National Committee, became public relations representatives of the new dictatorship in Haiti.

Of course, in the previous administration, Gen. Harry Vaughan, military aide to President Truman, gave further visible evidence that the United States was backing the dictators, by accepting a medal from dictator Peron of Argentina—until protests from Congress and this writer forced him to return it to the State Department. This was the incident that made me a charter member of the Servants of Brotherhood.

Attacks On Nixon Boomerang Against Kremlin

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—There is some evidence that the Moscow government is beginning to be disturbed over the consequences of the demonstrations against Vice President Nixon in Latin America. While steadily encouraging anti-Americanism in South America, the Kremlin, it is reliably reported, did not anticipate the kind of climax which now has brought a vigorous countermovement.

For today the Communist projects of the last several years are in danger. There are more than 200,000 active Communists in various Latin-American countries, guided by daily Communist newspapers. A number of trade missions have been aiding in the work of political infiltration. The publicity due to Mr. Nixon's experience and the exposure of Communist intrigue have just given the Communists unexpected worries. Their projects will come under fire now inside every country in Latin America.

Already the four-party junta which rules Venezuela, in which the Communist Party is an equal member, is in trouble. Two civilian members of the junta have just resigned in protest against the inaction of the Venezuelan police. As for the strange behavior of the police — directed by a Cabinet minister of Communist sympathies — significant comment comes from Earl Mazo of the staff of the New York "Herald Tribune," who was an eyewitness to the incidents in which Mr. Nixon's life was threatened. He writes:

"The Caracas killer mob of 300 screeching Communist-led individuals, ranging from teen-agers to aged derelicts, attacked Mr. Nixon's car as his motorcade was stalled in a mysterious traffic tieup. The Venezuelan police either vanished or froze where they stood. The tieup occurred in a midtown area that is notorious for bloodshed in revolutions and riots. . . .

"This reporter witnessed the attack on Mr. Nixon from a photographers' truck immediately in front of the Vice President's car. The viciousness of the affair was compounded by the fact that the Venezuelan police did practically nothing to protect the Vice President and his wife. The cool maneuvers of a half-dozen American Secret Service agents, several of whom were hurt, prevented injury to Mr. Nixon."

President Eisenhower naturally got reports by telephone about the incident. He decided to send Marines to a near-by point in the Caribbean to be ready "just in case." Thoughtless critics promptly assailed him for doing so. But supposing Mr. Nixon had been trampled upon and taken prisoner, what would the critics have said? Of course they would have denounced the President for not having taken proper precautions.

Should Vice President Nixon have canceled the trip to Latin America? Secretary Dulles answers this way:

"These things, you know, are much simpler to judge after the event than before the event. I believe myself, in the light of what we knew before Vice President Nixon went there, it was a quite correct judgment on his part to go. I think if we had all known what was going to happen there and had been able to foresee the events, probably he would not have gone. But, you know, if you don't go to places because of threats you will be locked up at home. I have never gone to any country in the world, hardly, but what I have had threats and there have been demonstrations of one sort or another. It is so with the Vice President, who has also visited a great many countries. If you allow yourself to be deterred by threats of that kind the result is that the Communists will imprison you at home. I don't accept that at all.

"The miscalculation in the case of the visit to Caracas was primarily a miscalculation as to the adequacy and efficiency of the police force. It virtually melted away at the sight of trouble. That wasn't anticipated. I don't know whether it could have been anticipated or not. But if there had been an adequate handling of that situation by the police, such as occurs in most countries, there would not have been any reason whatever to have concluded that the trip was unwise to have undertaken.

"Now we can see, in the light of after events, that that might perhaps have been foreseen. The police force that had been maintained under Estrada had been virtually liquidated, and we see now that the substitute police that had been created was inadequate and did not know how to cope with the type of organized rowdy mob such as the Communist agitators put on."

On balance, the episode may boomerang in favor of the United States and against Communism. The anti-Communists in South America will have an issue now which will grow into a demand that Communist parties be banned or, if allowed to exist, that they should not be permitted to participate in the government lest the United Sates be alienated. For, throughout Latin America, they know that the United States can in the long run do more for all the people of this hemisphere than can the opportunistic Communist regime in Moscow.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Must admit Harry Truman's pliable politics break all records from a standing start. Harry lets nothing stand in his way if he can detour around it.

He is the perfect politician who squints with alarm, radars with pride and nails the weather-vane down.

If facts interfere with the truth both go out the window like a burning mattress. The difference between a politician and a statesman is in the marsupial portfolio.

Harry has solid nuisance value plus the satisfaction that the ghost at the feast never picks up the check.

But he's had his tongue in his cheek so long his taste buds are lop-sided.

I like Harry because we both know he's sucking malarky through a straw.

If everything Harry says about the Republicans is true then the U. S. Treasury has the bars on the wrong buildings.

But Harry's high-angle oratory is as premature as a white robin egg. He should put the punching bag back in the gym until October.

OLEAN, N. Y. — This is a neat appetizing town set in a mint aspic of hills. On the map it is a round dot. It does not look like a dot from the front window of the Olean House. It has the appearance of a miniature metropolis, with many shops and churches and toed-in parking and the sighs of buses coming to a stop. It has women who window shop with their index fingers against their lips.

Olean is not pronounced O. Lean. It is Oh-lee-an. The main street is almost as broad as Unter den Linden in Berlin. Many years ago, when it was muddy, the lumberjacks used to roll big trees down the middle of it. A few miles away, the first oil was discovered in America in 1627. Down in the green Allegheny Valley is St. Bonaventure University. On Union Street are a newspaper called the Times Herald and two national banks.

I came here because the university has a first-class school of journalism. The students are the young men and women who, the day after tomorrow, will be writing our newspapers and magazines and books and will be disseminating information on television and radio. They are important.

The time is sundown and I have spent the day walking back and forth across the campus to listen to the seminars, to study the faces, to heed the questions. Today, the United States is a third-rate propaganda power. Bear in mind, the word propaganda — like the word politics — is a good one unless you want to abuse it.

The students are enthusiastic. They work hard on many projects. Best of all, they know that journalism is not a glamor profession in which one punches beautiful keys on a typewriter for millions of beautiful people to read and applaud. This is a sweaty business. A lonely one.

When you sit at the typewriter, no one can sit with you. When you think, you think alone. For good or evil, you are about to impose your philosophies on others. It is an easy burden only to a megalomaniac.

There are no short cuts to proper research or good word painting. And, when you have finished your best work, it is possible that no one will want to read it.

The students understand this. They work hard, they play hard. Some write short scenes; some write newspaper assignments; some aspire to books; some broadcast on a low watt station; some lift old tomes, with tenderness, from the library shelves.

This was Press Day at St. Bonaventure and the visiting students came from all over. There were students of many faiths and all are working toward a better world. There were middle-aged reporters and editors and photographers who came here to look.

A thousand had lunch in one hall. Loudspeakers fed the oratory to hundreds of others in other halls. The silent sandals of the Franciscan Friars trod the sunny walks with groups of students. Once, there was a sprinkle of rain; enough to dampen a wrinkled shirt on an ironing board. Then it stopped and the sun tossed a handful of gold against the green hills.

I have been to other schools of journalism. There are no poor ones, to my way of thinking. But this one wins the pot of lead off the linotype machine. The joint is jumping all the time. Everyone is excited; everybody works; everybody seems glad to be here. Dr. Russell Jandoli, who administers the school and himself like a runaway train, is so pleased with his "kids" that he beams behind his spectacles. He and Professor Cullen, his assistant, infuse the students with a desire to know everything about everything.

My daughters came up here with me. Ginny, who wrote her first book at the age of 17, was impressed.

"What were you saying about juvenile delinquents?" she said.

"Nothing," I said. "Nothing at all."

"That," said Gayle bitterly, "is what he has the nerve to call me."

"That," said Gayle bitterly, "is what he has the nerve to call me."

"No," said Ginny. "What I mean is, has any writer stressed the positive side of youth?" (She's an old babe of 20). "I'm serious. For every boy with a switchblade knife, there are 2,000 of these."

"We ought to come up here more often," said Gayle.

"Sure," I said. "The only reason you like it is that you don't have to go to school today."

"If anybody is interested," she said, "I'm going to be a doctor. Journalism is for the birds." . . .

Improper Cooking Robs Your Food Of Nutrients

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Improper preparation and cooking of food may be robbing your family of essential vitamins and minerals. It is difficult to cook without losing some of these elements but conservative cooking spares many of them.

Use a minimal amount of water with vegetables and boil for the shortest possible time. In this respect, steaming and pressure cooking have advantages over boiling. Adding bicarbonate of soda to the water softens the fiber of vegetables but encourages mineral loss. Don't throw away the "pot liquor" but use in soups, gravies, or sauces.

Excessive heat also destroys many nutrients, especially in meats. Use lower temperatures for longer cooking and higher temperatures for quick cooking. Roasting and frying, for example, require high temperatures but the damage to the heat labile substances is counteracted to some extent by the retention of juices.

The iron content of broccoli diminishes 50 per cent after 20 minutes of boiling. Eggs lose an average of 15 per cent of their riboflavin content when cooked by any method. There is no need to become alarmed because there is more in eggs than riboflavin.

The nutritional content of food also suffers when it stands in the open or is warmed over. This is especially true of the vitamin C content of vegetables. Salad greens keep better when cold and protected from dehydration. As a result, they should not be prepared until ready for use.

All fruits, except bananas, should be chilled. Do not allow fruit juices to stand too long after squeezing or opening the can. Contact with air encourages loss of vitamin C. Storing in glass, plastic, or enamel containers decreases this loss.

BLUISH NAILS

D. L. writes: What causes blue finger nails besides heart disease?

REPLY

Bluish discoloration may come from too much silver or copper in the nails. This may occur from the prolonged use of argyrol or other medications containing silver or, in the case of copper, from liver disease. Certain fungi are capable of imparting a bluish green tinge to the nails. Other drugs that are said to cause a bluish color are the antimalarials such as quinacrine and the laxative, phenalphthalein. Lung or circulatory disorders may do the same.

GAINS ON DIET

D. W. writes: Since going on a low fat diet I have gained six pounds and my blood cholesterol has risen from 350 to 398. Have you any explanation?

REPLY

A diet low in fat is not necessarily low in calories. In addition, the body manufactures its own cholesterol, especially when weight is gained. The cholesterol level also is increased by tension. But don't be discouraged as your next blood test may be under 300.

SHELLFISH ALLERGY

B. T. writes: Every time I eat seafood I break out in hives. Fresh water fish doesn't bother me. Does this mean I'm allergic to iodine?

REPLY

No, but you may be sensitive to one of the proteins in shellfish. A person who is allergic to shellfish is not necessarily sensitive to fresh or salt water fish. On the other hand, when an individual is allergic to white fish, for example, he is likely to be sensitive to other fresh water species but not to shellfish or salt water varieties.

UNHEALED SKIN LESION

R. Z. writes: Is cancer likely if a pimple on the face bleeds and dries over and over again?

REPLY

Yes, but in the circumstances, the lesion is not a pimple. Cancer is always suspected when a blemish fails to heal.

TOMORROW: Obstruction of the aorta.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A beggar, instead of holding out the customary ragged cap, was attired in frock coat and top hat. "I say," commented a curious passerby, "isn't it a bit odd to be begging in a top hat?"

"Not around here," replied the beggar haughtily. "If you want to get anywhere in this neighborhood, you've got to put on some dog."

A bookstore clerk saw a customer doubled with laughter over a famous woman author's new book entitled "How To Make The People Around You Happy." Asked if he wanted to buy a copy, he replied, "Hell, no; I'm her first husband."

A 67-year-old comedian recently wooed and won a shy maid of 22. "What's wrong with that?" he silenced disapproving pals. "When she's 100, I'll be only 145."

Mike Hall spotted this sign in a West Side beanery: "Dishwasher wanted. First five dishes broken are on the house."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 22 (INS)—My friend Shelby Thompson of the Atomic Energy Commission sets me straight on the question of the "clean" bomb, the subject of a recent flippant piece in this space.

"From your column entitled 'Doesn't Dig Clean Bomb' in the Journal-American I judge you may have not yet seen the enclosed remarks by Chairman Strauss and Dr. Libby on the need for defensive nuclear weapons with reduced fallout," he chides.

"Your argument that 'cleanliness' makes little difference to a direct hit victim is certainly not debatable, but the U.S. and friendly populations which in wartime would not suffer fallout injury because of our self-interest reduction of the fallout potential of defensive weapons would be most grateful for the degree of 'cleanliness' we would have accomplished at the time.

"It seems to me it makes as much sense to try to protect ourselves and our friends from the potential fallout effects of our defensive nuclear weapons as it does to try to hold down the effect on nearby healthy tissue of radiation treatment of a tumor. Best, etc."

Chairman Lewis Strauss (before the Senate subcommittee on disarmament)—"Both as a citizen and as a government official, I am aware that scientific advances in weaponry have increased, and are increasing, the ability of an aggressor nation to launch an attack which could be extremely damaging to the United States.

"Because we are a democracy, we are cast in the role of defenders and cede to totalitarian governments the role of aggressors. There is an enormous distinction in this statement of simple fact. The targets of the attacker are large (i.e., our cities). The targets of the defenders are small (i.e., enemy planes and missiles). The weapons of the defender therefore need to be much more sophisticated in design than those of the aggressor. They must be both more accurate and more numerous than the weapons of the aggressor and, since many would be used over our own or friendly territory, they must be designed to perform their function and to produce the absolute minimum of radioactive debris."

Dr. Willard F. Libby, AEC commissioner (at Amherst last month)—

"A further very important reason for continued testing (of nuclear weapons) is that we are in process of learning how to reduce the fallout from our weapons so their use in war would not necessarily bring the awful scourage of local fallout. There is absolutely no doubt that local radioactive fallout from surface-fired nuclear weapons which receive an appreciable part of their energy from the fission reaction is one of the two great threats of atomic war.

"It is estimated that an attack on this country could well cause millions of deaths in this way unless we had an adequate Civilian Defense plan for local fallout, which at the present we do not have. Were we forced to defend against an attack on NATO, the availability of tactical nuclear weapons of limited radioactive fallout would make possible a defense which did not endanger non-combatants and friendly countries by local radioactive fallout from weapons fired in defense.

"We must have further tests to complete this development in the smaller bomb yield range which is especially important for tactical use. To date, we have accomplished this change only in the higher yields and further work is necessary for the kiloton class of bombs."

Makes sense. So does something Dr. Libby concluded with at Amherst: "There is a natural law which requires us not to turn our backs on nature. If we have chances to discover new things about matter and its behavior, and new ways of doing things, and do not grasp these opportunities, we pay dearly for having committed what is essentially an unnatural act. No man or nation can disregard that fact and remain healthy very long. We must proceed with the non-military applications of nuclear explosions under any conditions!"

Potatoes And Onions Bilbaina

With tiny new potatoes and fresh green onions coming into the markets from spring gardens, this Spanish potato-onion dish is appropriate. Peel the potatoes, cut the larger ones in halves or quarters, leave small potatoes whole; peel and trim spring onions, dicing green tops. Place potatoes and onions in 3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil, along with salt and pepper, and cook, covered, over very low heat until tender, about 15 minutes. Wonderful with hamburgers or grilled fish.

Spanish Ham Hash

Here's a wonderful way to use left-over ham: first saute 1½ to 2 cups of diced ham and 1 medium sized chopped onion in 2 tablespoons Spanish olive oil. A crushed garlic clove may be added, if you like, or a diced green pepper. Then add a can of tomato sauce, half a cup of water, and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 20 to 30 minutes; serve over rice or with macaroni or spaghetti for a savory supper dish.

Summer Time Kabobs

Boneless lamb is often used to prepare kabobs, but for a novel change use frankfurters or cubes of canned luncheon meat.

Old-Fashioned Dessert With Some New Twists

Mocha Rice Custard is a quick and easy dessert for party or family fare.

The array of modern convenience foods now on the market is a real boon to busy homemakers. Many of the old fashioned favorite dishes which mother and grandmother used to make are impractical today. Modern recipes take advantage of the instant and quick-cooking products now available to cut down time and energy spent in the kitchen. The results are as satisfying as those obtained in grandmother's time.

Mocha Rice Custard is just such a recipe. It utilizes three convenience products to create a delicious dessert. In addition, one of nature's own convenience foods—milk—forms the creamy custard base. The result is a delicate rice custard made in half the time required for the old fashioned kind.

Mocha Rice Custard

- ½ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons instant chocolate-flavored mix
- 1 tablespoons instant coffee
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 quart milk
- ⅓ cup quick-cooking rice

Blend together sugar, salt, instant chocolate and coffee. Stir in ¾ cup milk gradually and blend well. Add remaining ingredients and mix. Pour into 8-inch square baking dish (1½ quart capacity). Set in a pan of hot water 1-inch deep. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°. Stir mixture twice during first 30 minutes of baking. Remove from oven when a silver knife inserted 1-inch from edge of pan comes out clean, about 30 minutes. Cool quickly on wire rack. Chill and serve plain, with cream or milk, or whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Hot spiced pears and doughnuts combine to make a delicious cold weather dessert. Drain juice from a #2½ can of pears, add ¼ cup vinegar, 1 stick cinnamon and 8 whole cloves. Bring to a boil and simmer for about 3 minutes. Add canned pear halves and simmer until pears are thoroughly heated through. Serve hot with fresh doughnuts.

Candy Orange Cream Cake

(Makes 8 servings)

- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1 10-ounce jar mandarin orange sections, well drained
- 2 8-inch sponge cake layers
- 8 assorted freshly-boxed chocolates

Combine cream and orange sections; mix lightly. Spread top of one layer with half of cream mixture. Top with remaining layer. Spread remaining cream mixture on top of layer leaving a border of 1-inch at edge. Arrange chocolates in border.

Economy-wise shoppers stock their refrigerator with cheese—especially Gouda Cheese — the gourmet's delight. Entertaining calls for something special and budget-minded homemakers will enjoy the compliments received when guests are served a cheese tray with the center of attraction a taste-tempting, red-coated Gouda.

Make Own Mayonnaise In Two Minutes

NEW YORK, New York—Of all the savory sauces, none is so well known as mayonnaise and from mayonnaise stems a whole galaxy of sauces for salad dressings, seafood cocktails and cocktail dips.

Mayonnaise was first made more than a hundred years ago in a little island off the coast of Spain. It was invented by the chef of a French nobleman and named in honor of the city where it was created—Mahon. We don't know how long it took that chef to make his first batch of mayonnaise, but we'll bet the oil was added drop by drop. And for eight decades mayonnaise was made by this same method. Today, thanks to the mechanical kitchen genie, you can make foolproof mayonnaise or any of its derivative sauces in about two minutes.

The nice thing about making your own mayonnaise, aside from the fact that it is more economical, is that you can vary the flavor to suit your individual taste. You can use lemon juice, herb vinegar or wine vinegar in place of cider vinegar or, if you have egg yolks left over, you can use two egg yolks in place of each whole egg.

Mayonnaise

1 whole egg or 2 egg yolks
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup salad oil (part olive oil is delicious)

Into the container of an electric blender put the egg, mustard, salt, vinegar and ¼ cup of the salad oil. Cover container and flick motor quickly on and off high speed. Remove cover, turn motor on high and immediately add the remaining oil in a steady stream. When all the oil is added, turn off motor. Makes 1¼ cups mayonnaise.

Sauce Nicoise

(For Cooked Seafood or Salad Greens)

To 1¼ cups mayonnaise add ½ green pepper, seeded and coarsely cut, ¼ cup tomato paste, 1 teaspoon dry tarragon and 1 tablespoon chopped chives. Stir with rubber spatula to combnie, cover and blend on high speed for 6 seconds.

Sauce A La Ritz

(For Salad Greens or a Dip for Raw Vegetables)

To 1¼ cups mayonnaise add ¼ teaspoon worcestershire sauce, 1 fresh tomato, peeled and quartered, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 1 large clove garlic and 2 tablespoons parsley clusters. Stir with rubber spatula to combine, cover and blend on high speed for 6 seconds.

Sauce Verte

(For Cold Salmon or Smoked Fish)

To 1¼ cups mayonnaise add 1½ tablespoons chopped chives, 1 teaspoon dry tarragon, ¼ cup parsley clusters and 1 teaspoon dry dillweed. Stir with rubber spatula to combine, cover and blend on high speed for 6 seconds.

Sauce Gribiche

(For Head Lettuce or a for Smoked Oysters)

To 1¼ cups mayonnaise add 2 tablespoons parsley clusters, 1 teaspoon dry dillweed, 1 small sour pickle, 1 tablespoon coarsely cut onion, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 3 drops tabasco. Stir with rubber spatula to combine, cover and blend on high speed for 6 seconds. Add 3 hard-cooked eggs, one at a time, pushing each egg down into the blades with the spatula. Blend each egg for 1 second only.

Sauce Tartar

(For Fried Fish)

To 1¼ cups mayonnaise add 1 tablespoon parsley clusters, 2 cloves garlic, 1 teaspoon dry tarragon, 5 sweet gherkins, 3 pitted olives and ¼ teaspoon coarsely ground pepper. Stir with rubber spatula to combine, cover and blend on high speed for 6 seconds.

Promotion Trip

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi announced he plans to visit the Middle East and Latin America this fall to promote economic and cultural relations with those areas.

Jellied Apple Snow

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cups canned apple sauce
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Few grains salt
½ pt. heavy cream, whipped
1 cup sliced fresh strawberries
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 egg whites
⅓ cup sugar

Soften gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Combine apple sauce, nutmeg and salt. Heat, add gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Cool until slightly thickened. Add strawberries and vanilla extract. Beat egg whites stiff, gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Fold into apple sauce mixture. Pour into mold; chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate, garnish with whipped cream and if desired, whole strawberries. Makes 6-8 servings.

These tips teach ways to eye beauty by sparing them fatigue and strain.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Help Your Eyes To Take It Easy

Bright, expressive eyes look no chances on eye fatigue or young; dull eyes look old. Take strain — sparkle can't help but fade when eyes tire. Be faithful all your life to these ways of keeping your eyes constantly refreshed.

Make sure of correct light always, on the job and at home, and remember that glare does even more harm than insufficient light. Never work or read in the light of a lamp with darkness around you—although to a lesser degree, lamp light sharp against darkness stabs the eyes as oncoming car headlights do on a dark road. Provide the room with general illumination as well as specific light, and continue soft lighting when the television set is turned on.

Vary the use of your eyes — they tire less with movement and changing focus. During long period of close work, look up and into the distance often. Whenever possible, follow indoor concentration with distance sight outdoors, which is as refreshing as the change of air is.

Wear glasses if you need them, and as they are needed, all the time or for every use they're prescribed for. Wear sunglasses for protection from strong sunlight.

Cup tired eyes in your hands and think of black velvet as you look into darkness. If you cannot see deep black at once, be warned of more strain than you realized. Close eyes that feel dry and scratchy and let the tear ducts' natural liquid bathe and refresh them. Use a good eye lotion for relief from irritation caused by wind or dust, and saturated eye pads for an occasional rest inducer.

Never rub the eye that caught a speck of dust in it — wink to encourage tears to loosen it, then gently draw the upper lid down over the lower. If this method of removal fails, seek a doctor's help at once.

TOMORROW: Get A Lift Out Of Exercise.

SUMMERIZING YOUR BEAUTY. For figure loveliness, grace, and sparkling vitality, follow the 30-day wonder program outlined in SUMMERIZING YOUR BEAUTY. For a copy of the program write to SECRETS OF CHARM, in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

NEW MACHINE GIVES COIN CHANGE FOR CURRENCY — Invented by a German-born engineer, a new machine, "automatic and foolproof," accepts any denomination of currency and gives change in coins. Set the machine for a $5 bill, for instance, and it will work on no others, and the bill may be torn or wrinkled and inserted in any position. If tampered with, a burglar alarm rings. (International)

Q. What is the name of this meat cut?

A. Lamb Shanks.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?

A. They come from the front shanks of lamb and contain the two fore shank bones, elbow and part of the arm bone. Layers of meat surround the bones. A thin paper-like covering called "fell" covers the meat.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. They are cooked slowly by braising or in liquid. After cooking until tender, they may be boned, stuffed and finished cooking. This cut of lamb requires approximately 1 to 1½ hours for cooking.

A superb pear sundae can be made with two canned pear halves and a scoop of vanilla ice cream. This is a tasty combination when topped with Peppermint Fudge Sauce or Chocolate Rum Sauce. Use 1/3 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 squares melted chocolate, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1/4 teaspoon rum or peppermint extract, and 1/8 teaspoon salt.

Panbroiling

When panbroiling steaks or chops, use a low temperature and do not cover the meat. Pour off the fat as it accumulates.

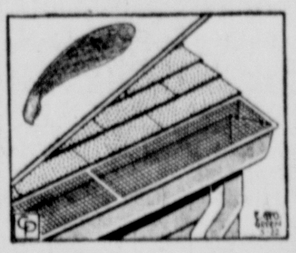
Rushed homemakers will appreciate a dessert that can be made ahead, ready-to-serve. Line a meringue pie shell with six canned pears. Then spread in a filling of grated chocolate folded into whipped cream. Chill in refrigerator overnight.

For a festive touch, arrange chilled canned pear halves in dessert dishes; sprinkle each serving with 2 tablespoons red wine or grape juice. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream and a dusting of nutmeg.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Make "butterfly" pork chops. Using inch-thick boneless chops or pork slices, cut almost through the pieces thickness-wise, leaving enough for a hinge. Then spread flat on pan.

In a puckered-weave cloth, check to see that threads are held firmly and evenly. If not, the fabric is sleazy and will snag.



Downspouts can be clogged with winged maple seeds, as well as with leaves. Prevent this with small-meshed cages in gutters.

Molded Cheddar Cheese Salad With Vegetables

2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of pepper sauce
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1¾ cups milk
1 cup shredded sharp American cheese (¼ pound)
¼ cup vinegar drained
¼ cup pepper relish, well
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped pimiento,
Tomato slices, cooked asparagus spears, other cooked and uncooked vegetables as desired
Salad greens
Salad dressing

Mix salt, mustard, sugar, pepper sauce, gelatin, eggs and milk in the top of a double boiler. Cook and stir over simmering water until the mixture will coat a metal spoon. (Do not have water touching top part of boiler.) Remove from heat at once and add cheese; stir until melted. Stir in vinegar. Chill until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg white, then fold in pepper, relish, celery and pimiento. Pour into 8 individual molds or one 1½ quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with vegetables and salad greens. Serve with French dressing or lemon mayonnaise. Makes 8 servings.

Bottle Toll High

LONDON (AP) — More than half a million milk bottles are lost in Britain daily. The National Dairymen's Assn. reports a six-week average is 25 million. Each cost the equivalent of 5 cents.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 22 (INS)—Elizabeth Taylor will star in the first picture she and Mike Todd, Jr., are making for their own company. It has an August starting date and will be made on location in the U.S.A. I can't tell you the title, because according to Bill Doll, long associated with the late Mike Todd, "it's based on an actual occurrence taken from a newspaper story and we have to get clearance. Mike was working on it before he decided to make 'Don Quixote.'"

Bill went on to tell me that under the management of Mike, Jr., the Todd company is operating full blast. Currently, "Around the World in 80 Days" has opened in only 140 theatres, "but we expect to have it in 900 theatres by summer. Mike, Jr's due here any minute."

In addition, a music publishing company has been formed to reactivate all the tunes used in early Todd stage hits. Still another iron in the fire is reviving the Todd produced "Hot Mikado" and "Star and Garter" as Las Vegas revues, the latter with Gypsy Rose Lee and Bobby Clarke.

A modern western to make the old cowhands blanch, "Worthless Young Man," all about a Texas ranch where there are as many imported cars as cactus plants, has been bought by MGM for Glenn Ford.

Printed originally as a novelette by James Atlee Phillips in a national magazine, the story has been turned over to Phillip Barry Jr., to produce.

Barry, formerly associated with TV, is bringing writer Ernest Kinoy from New York to write the screenplay.

Glenn's role is that of an older brother trying to tame a wild younger one into giving up blondes and bottles and becoming a real ranch manager.

I'm wondering, however, if Glenn won't first make "Some Came Running," James Jones' postwar novel, for Sol Siegel. He's been touted for it.

When Marilyn Monroe gets here June 1 for her picture, "Some Like It Hot," she starts ukulele lessons. This is the instrument she plays as a musician in an all-girl band. Matty Melnick is lining up professional girl instrumentalists and will also engage Cliff Edwards, the original Ukulele Ike, to teach Marilyn.

Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon, who are in the film with Marilyn, do many scenes dressed as women, and Orry-Kelly is designing the latest gasp for them. You're safe in betting Tony will give his dress to Janet (Leigh) and Felicia Farr will get Jack's gown.

I was introduced to Carlos Arruza, one of the most famous matadors in the world, at the Peggy Lee opening at Mocambo. Arruza who is is Mexican, speaks practically no English and was traveling with an interpreter. He told me that Bud Boettiger is doing the story of his life in Mexico, and that he leaves soon to star in the picture. In his party was Pedro Vargas, well-known Mexican singer and actor.

Mel Ferrer was delighted when Arruza stopped by his table and complimented him on the way he played the role of a matador 10 years ago.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Phil Crosby, Dennis' twin, arrives in Las Vegas June 1 to see Sandy Drummond, a pal of Pat Sheehan, Dennis' wife.

News from Rome is that Mrs. Mario Lanza is very ill in a hospital and her mother, Mrs. Betty Hix, planed out to be with her.

Pier Angeli and Vic Damone have gone to Palm Springs to cement their reconciliation. Vic leaves next week for Patti Page's "Big Record" show.

Richard Barthelmess and William Powell flew to San Francisco immediately after their pal Ronald Colman's funeral. They return Saturday and will have dinner with the Walter Langs.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

The varnish tree is a name family because the resinous juice given to several trees of the same is used for varnishing.

Monty Remembers

TORONTO (AP) — Field Marshal Lord Montgomery had a question for Police Constable Kelvey Hamilton last weekend.

"How's your leg, officer?"

"Just fine sir," Hamilton replied.

Hamilton had been assigned for the second time to escort Montgomery on a visit to Toronto. The first time was four years ago. A taxi hit him then. His left leg an two ribs were broken.

Frostburg Lions Elect Keister As President

Club Will Present Beall Music Award

FROSTBURG—Russell E. Keister was elected president of the Frostburg Lions Club at the meeting held at Happy Hills Farm this week. He will be installed at the meeting in June.

Also elected to serve the club in the coming year are Paul LaRue, first vice president; Karl Hartig, second vice president, and Eugene Valentine, third vice president.

John Shaner was re-elected secretary while George Griffith was named the new treasurer. Anthony Folk will be the new Lion Tamer while Jonathan R. Jenkins will again serve as tail twister.

Robert D. Ewing an George Walters were appointed to the board of directors to serve with Allen F. Shrader and Joseph E. Klosterman, returning members.

Last week, the Lions met on the campus of Frostburg State Teachers College for their dinner meeting as part of their community program. William Eckhart had charge of the program and presented R. Bowen Hardesty, president of the college who spoke on the problems of overcrowded colleges. Frostburg State is ahead of any enrollment in its history for the coming year, Mr. Hardesty announced.

After a brief outline of the work of the college, Mr. Hardesty pointed out the work the educational center is doing in junior college and noted that 77 students attended during the past year along with student nurses from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Harry Poland, a former member of the club, was a guest.

Edward P. Flanigan, president, announced that 140 persons attended the Lions well baby clinic in the City Hall last month. The club provided free transportation to all attending the clinic each month in their station wagon. Eight persons used the Lions wheel chairs, three the walkers and one hospital bed during the month.

A special $25 bond will be awarded to the outstanding music student graduating from Beall High this year from the Lions. Recently the club presented a donation to the Maryland Singers to help defray the cost of their recent tour.

President Flanigan, District Governor Clifford Crowe, Past President James Smith and Director E. B. Van Fossen will attend the district convention in Atlantic City next week. The regular meeting will be held Wednesday at Happy Hills Farm.

Westernport Policeman Resigns

WESTERNPORT—Russell McRobie, town police officer for the past three months has resigned, effective Saturday. After his resignation was read by Mrs. Katherine Dailey, clerk, at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners, action on his successor was deferred until after the town election May 27.

McRobie is taking employment as a guard at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

It was decided to send a letter this weekend to every registered voter to explain advantages of the town entering into an agreement with the Upper Potomac River Commission to participate in the proposed waste sewage plant.

The Citizens National Bank informed the town it has purchased $10,000 in U.S. bonds paying 2½ per cent annum at a cost of $9,670.02. The amount was taken from the debt service account from the sale of water bonds to build the filtration plant recently.

Elmer Hott requested that parking be removed from the upper side to the lower side of Vine Street between Rock and Johnson Street. Heavy trucks are damaging the town's sewer lines. No action was taken.

William Mayles, chief of Potomac Fire Company 2, reported a fire plug in the vicinity of the Westernport Elementary School, Church Street, needed repairs which were ordered done by council.

A resolution was unanimously passed ordering a referendum be placed on the official ballot in the town election on the question of giving the town the authority to change the charter so it can enter into agreement with the UPRC to participate in the waste treatment plant.

The second and final reading of Ordinance 15, granting humane officers of Allegany County full power and authority to prevent dogs from running at large in the town was unanimously adopted.

Pool Volunteers Sought Tonight

LONACONING — Volunteers to work on the community swimming pool project in the old Charles Town reservoir area are asked to report to the site at 6 p.m. today when certain power equipment is to be available for use.

Benjamin Evans Jr. and Samuel Gardner are co-chairmen of the project and Calvin James is secretary.

Volunteers also are requested to report Sautrday morning when other equipment will be available. Women interested in this project will conduct a bake sale at 10 a.m. Saturday in Love's grocery store.

Has Play Part

OAKLAND — Shirley Ream, a student at Western Maryland College, Westminster, will have a role in the Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" which will be presented by the Dramatic Art Department May 30 at 8:15 p. m. in the Alumni Hall.

Returns Home

FROSTBURG — Mrs. H. Pearson, 42 Greene Street, has returned from Balitmore where she visited her sister Mrs. F. Pretsch.

ENTERS SERVICE—Airman James R. Shuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Shuck, 47 Broadway, Frostburg, is undergoing his initial course of military training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He will be selected to attend one of the more than 400 technical training courses offered by the Air Force or will be given a direct assignment to a job in one of the Air Force commands upon his completion of military training.

Frostburg College Senior Assembly Features Skit

FROSTBURG — "Red Letter Daze," the senior assembly at State Teachers College was held yesterday in Compton Hall Auditorium. William Delaney, president of the senior class, introduced the cast which portrayed a skit which was a take-off on "Dante's Inferno." The story theme was a trip by "Archie," a college student who has passed on and is being escorted about "Hell" by Dean Devil.

Scene 1 was a dormitory room at F.S.T.C. The next scenes were of four classrooms in Hades.

Characters in the skit were Sarah Slick — Miss Bright; Ed Dawson, Richard Gilpin, Robert Bantz, William McCall and Hugh Nolan — Rocettes; Clifford Stevens — Archie; William Price — Dean Devil; Ruby Livengood Shryock—Rapid Fire Instructor; Marina Tuya — Pencil Pusher; William McCall—Dr. Cramstick; Richard Gilpin—Dr. Van Oldkirk; Saundra Haywood—Spirit of Class of '58; William Delaney — Dr. Figgs; Hugh Nolan—Sparky; Virginia Miller — card player and Jack Hill—"R. B."

The play was written by William Price. Stage crew included Thomas Van Pelt, chairman, Jack Hill, Carolyn Baum and Marvin Llewellyn. Ushers were Karen Casserly and Dorothy Bampton; co-chairmen, Ruth Freeman, Shirley Schaidt and Rose Winner. Programs and favors were prepared by Bonnie Henson, chairman, Dorothea Rowe, Gladys Harsh and Gail Davis Stemple and publicity by Sarah Slick, chairman, and Mary Yoder.

New Uniforms For Medal Winners Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Medal winners would be given new uniforms to replace their old — and oft times ill fitting ones — if Rep. Elizabeth Kee (D-WVa.) has her way.

She offered a bill Thursday to authorize the armed services to furnish free uniforms and insignia to the approximately 340 living medal winners.

"Most of these men have been out of service for years and they do not have uniforms suitable for appearance at public functions," Mrs. Kee said.

"When the holder of the Congressional Medal is asked to appear, he alone is not being honored — rather all of the armed services and the men and women who comprise them are being honored."

Lonaconing Plans Buddy Poppy Day

LONACONING—"Buddy Poppy Day" will be held on Saturday, May 31, at Lonaconing. The 4-H girls will assist.

Westernport Candidates Favor Sewage Plant

WESTERNPORT — Ray L. Wilt, candidate for Mayor of Westernport, yesterday issued a statement in behalf of himself and his four running mates for council in which he emphasized that he is in favor of the town's participation in the waste treatment plant to be erected by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Piedmont and Luke also will join in the plant to alleviate the sewage disposal problems for the Tri-Towns.

"Certainly either plan offered is more advantageous to us than erecting our own disposal plant," Mr. Wilt emphasized. "Whether or not we join in this plan will be decided at the election May 27 when the citizens will have an opportunity to express themselves. I should also like to make it clear that I have no quarrel with the idea of a referendum. When enough people begin thinking about how their town is being run and how best to spend their tax dollars, then and only then will we have a more constructive government."

Mr. Wilt stressed that in his five terms as commissioner he has striven for economical and efficient city government.

The mayorality candidate said he favors a program calling for the repaving of certain streets each year until all have been resurfaced. He also observed that town officials have been endeavoring to have all open ditches within the corporate limits sewered and he pledged to continue to work toward that end.

Mr. Wilt also noted that a new water main from Main Street directly to the corner of Howard and Philos Avenue will more than double the supply of water to the Greene's Addition section.

The four candidates running for commissioner with Mr. Wilt are Joseph L. Herbert, present commissioner of police and fire; Alvin K. Pence, ending his second term as commissioner of water; Harry M. Richards, who served as commissioner from 1950 until 1956, and Dr. Neill Williams, a newcomer to town politics.

Winners In Frostburg Road-e-o

HOW TO PAINT A ROOM IN SECRET

Even if the weather keeps doors and windows closed, there are no painty smells to seep through the house, no fumes to make closed room painting unpleasant. And Color-Spree whizzes on with brush, roller or spray, is self-smoothing and dries in thirty minutes or less. No one will even know you've been painting.

Here's the easy-to-use, hard drying, washable flat wall paint you've always wanted. Plastic Color-Spree is self-priming, touch-ups and laps don't show, and spatters clean up with a damp cloth. Brushes and rollers wash clean in water.

Valley Baccalaureate Scheduled For June 2

LONACONING — Baccalaureate service will be held on Monday, June 2, at 8 p. m. in the Valley High School auditorium for the Class of 1958.

Joseph L. Derry will play organ processional. "America" will be sung by the class and audience. Rev. Carl E. Price will give invocation. "Holy, Holy, Holy" will be sung by the class and audience.

Rev. Paul Poland will read the Scripture lesson. Rev. Byron Keesecker will give prayer. A saxophone trio, "In a Monastery Garden" will be played by Ruth Lee Schramm, Bonnie Neat and Wayne Foote.

"Digging Wells" will be the sermon to be given by Rev. Chalmers H. Goshorn. Announcements will be read by Rev. Keesecker. "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Send Out Thy Light" will be sung by the Mixed Chorus.

Rev. Paul Poland will give the benediction. Organ recessional will be played by Joseph L. Derry, "Now The Day Is Over." The 102 seniors will wear caps and gowns, white by the girls, dark blue for the boys.

Archers Plan Opening Shoot

KEYSER—Archery enthusiasts, both beginners and members of clubs, will be welcomed at the "Grand Opening Shoot," sponsored by the Green Mountain Archers Club Sunday.

The newly-completed range, the result of much work by the local archers, will test the skill of all participants. None of the Green Mountain Archery club have had time to practice, due to the heavy work loads during the past few weeks, so they will not have an "edge" in scoring over visitors.

The range is located six miles from Keyser on Route 46, near the "Stop-In" Restaurant. To reach the new range location, all are instructed to proceed on the road in the rear of the "Stop In," for a quarter mile stretch to the top of the hill.

Registration for the "shoot" will be at 1 p. m. Sunday. Spectators are welcome.

During June, invitations for the Green Mountain Archers' Annual Tournament will be sent to archers from the local area and to far distant points. Past tournaments have enticed archers many of them West Virginia champions as well as two national champions.

The officers of the company say their invitation extends to "watchers" as well as archers.

W.Va. Schools Plan Exercises For Graduation

Commencement Set For Monday

ROMNEY, W. Va. — Commencement exercises of the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind will be held in the Physical Education Building Monday at 10:30 a. m. EST.

The commencement speaker will be Egbert N. Peeler, superintendent of the North Carolina School for the Blind and Deaf in Raleigh. Mr. Peeler is a distinguished leader in the field of the education of the blind, having served on numerous important national committees in the American Association of Instructors of the Blind, and is currently serving as a member of the board of directors of that organization. He is also a leader in the education of the deaf, and in the field of the multiple handicapped he serves as the chairman of the Executive Board of the National Committee for Deaf-Blind children.

James E. Ansel, of Moorefield, member of the West Virginia Board of Education, will represent the board at the graduation exercises and will present the diplomas.

Rev. Raymond A. Martin of the Romney Christian Church will deliver the invocation and the benediction.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the Physical Education Building, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Rev. Warren Shields of the First Baptist Church of Romney will deliver the baccalaureate address.

Mrs. Wilt Returns To Keyser Store

KEYSER — Mrs. Kathleen Wilt of Westernport has been transferred back to the Keyser store of the Singer Sewing Machine Company after having been employed at the Cumberland store since last August.

Mrs. Wilt was employed in the Keyser store for a number of years before her temporary transfer to Cumberland.

Memorial Day Scheduled For PSC's Commencement

KEYSER — The 55th annual commencement exercises of Potomac State College will take place Friday, May 30, at 10:30 a. m. (DST) in the college gymnasium with Dr. Arthur L. Brandon, vice president for university relations at New York University, addressing the Class of 1958.

A native of Philippi, Dr. Brandon has been in his present position since April 1957. He had been an administrative officer at the University of Michigan since 1946 and was director of special services at Vanderbilt University from 1943 to 1945. Dr. Brandon has also held public relations directorships at the University of Texas and Bucknell University. From 1935 to 1939 he was executive assistant and then associate director of the American Council on Education's Youth Commission.

Dr. Brandon was a three-term member of the public relations commission of the Association of American Colleges and was for two years president of the American College Public Relations Association. The latter organization conferred its distinguished service award on him in 1947.

He also is a member of the public relations committee of the Michigan United Fund and of the Public Relations Society of America.

Dr. Brandon attended Philippi public schools and received a Master of Arts degree in 1927 from Bucknell University where he served as a member of the faculty from 1929 to 1935. Bucknell elected him to its board of trustees in 1951. He also has served on the Board of Trustees of Alderson-Broaddus College, where he received a Bachelor's degree in 1927. He taught English and journalism for two years, 1927-1929, at the Oklahoma Baptist University, an institution that conferred the honorary degree of doctor of law on him in 1936.

Ladies Tournaments Held At Maplehurst

FROSTBURG — The regular Ladies Day tournaments were held at Maplehurst Country Club this week with 23 participating.

Mrs. Murray King and Mrs. Ernest Bampton tied for low gross and Mrs. Anthony Matese scored low net.

Lonaconing Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntyre left yesterday for Fort Wayne, Ind. where he will attend the Indiana Technical College.

Mr. and Mrs. John Devlin, Newark, Ohio, and Dr. and Mrs. Richard O'Brien, Columbus, Ohio, spent the week-end at the home of William Devlin, High Street.

Visits Mother

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. —M Sgt. Elmer I. Klavon visited his mother, Mrs. G. A. Klavon and his cousin Joseph Kowalski over the weekend. He is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., with the 54th Infantry Armed Rifle Battalion, and is making a career of the service.

Keyser Arranges Fishing Clinic

KEYSER — The Keyser Recreation board will again sponsor a Fishing Clinic at the Municipal Swimming pool this year. The clinic this year will be in two sessions, one at 4 p. m. and the other at 7 p. m., on Monday, May 26. The pool will not be officially open for swimming on that date due to school still being in session.

Both clinic sessions will be supervised by Conservation Officer Claude E. Rice, who is rated as excellent in the art of fly fishing.

Both sessions are free.

Swanton Personals

Mrs. Mary E. Friend who spent two weeks visiting relatives in Ohio, has returned here.

Mrs. Bennie Sweitzer, who has been ill, is reported to be improved.

Mrs. Cora Lohr returned to her home after spending the winter with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lohr, Silver Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tichinel and family, who have been residing at Altamont, have returned to their home at RFD 3, Walnut Bottom.

Mrs. Hugh Friend and children, Gary, Judy and Terry, of Philipi, W. Va., returned to their home after visiting Mrs. Friend's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fitzwater, RFD 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Friend and son visited Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Friend in Deer Park on Sunday.

Wilt Will Face No Opposition

WESTERNPORT — Only one candidate for mayor and five for commissioner will be listed on the ballot for next Tuesday's town election as a result of the town attorney's ruling.

Horace P. Whitworth Sr., the town attorney, ruled that Horace Richards had filed too late to run for mayor in the May 27 election. He informed council that the charter states that candidates must file at least five days before the election. Courts have ruled that the date of filing, the election day and Sunday do not count in figuring the five days.

At a special meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners last night, it was voted to return the $10 filing fee to Mr. Richards' sponsor.

Ray L. Wilt will be unopposed for mayor. The five candidates for the four commissioner posts are J. Leo Herbert, Lorenzo C. Lambert, Alvin R. Pence, Harry M. Richards and Dr. R. Neil Williams.

Voting will be from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. in the council chamber. More than 1,100 are eligible.

Mt. Savage Personals

Mrs. Emily Rice is a surgical patient at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Belva Miller is a medical patient at Sacred Heart Hospita.

Mrs. Leona Wilson is a patient at Memorial Hospital.

Charleston Mayor's Son To Referee

CHARLESTON (AP) — John T. Copenhaver Jr., 32-year-old son of Charleston's mayor, was sworn in Thursday as referee in bankruptcy of the U.S. District Court for Southern West Virginia.

Copenhaver was named by Federal Judge Ben Moore to fill the vacancy created by the death last March 3 of H. L. Snyder. Copenhaver's appointment, effective June 1, is for a six-year term.

Copenhaver was graduated in 1950 from West Virginia University's College of Law. He served a year as law clerk to Judge Moore in federal court here before entering private law practice in the office of his father, Charleston Mayor John T. Copenhaver.

Past Patrons, Matrons Will Be Entertained

LONACONING — Past Patrons and Past Matrons will be entertained today at 8 p. m. by Martha Washington Chapter No. 10, Order of Eastern Star.

Grand visitation will be held on Friday, June 27, at the Lonaconing O.E.S. chapter.

PSC Consultant Gives Opinion On C&A's Rates

CHARLESTON (AP) — A Public Service Commission consultant testified Thursday that, in his opinion, a fair rate of return for Cumberland & Allegheny Gas Co. would be between 6 and 6.2 per cent rather than the 6.75 rate the utility seeks from its West Virginia operations.

The company wants PSC approval of increased rates designed to bring in additional $665,000 annually from some 17,000 customers in northeastern West Virginia.

James Honaker of Frankfort, Ky., a consultant for the PSC, testified after three company witnesses were cross - examined at the resumed hearing.

Later in the day, Rate Analyst James Matthews of the PSC said he felt the company should get a 6.25 - per cent rate of return.

Based on that figure, he testified, the company should receive a rate increase designed to bring in an additional $359,000 a year.

The hearing resumed before the PSC to permit counsel for the protesting Inter - Community League of West Virginia and for the PSC to corss - examine company witnesses who had testified earlier.

The company witnesses were H. R. Weitzel of Pittsburgh, chief engineer for C & A: J. L. Stockhausen, also of Pittsburgh, chief rate engineer for C & A, and Morton Lewis of New York, assistant treasurer of Columbia Gas System, parent company of C & A.

Honaker, during his direct testimony, introduced an exhibit which compared Columbia's earnings with those of other utilities.

The proposed new rates have been in effect under bond since April 22. If the PSC fails to approve the new schedule, C & A customers will receive refunds plus interest.

The utility filed for the rate increase last Nov. 21. In a previous hearing on the case, the utility said it was operating at a $96,000 annual loss in West Virginia.

Crusades was the name given to a series of campaigns undertaken by the Christians of western Europe from 1096 to 1291 for the recovery of the Holy Land from the Mohammedans.

Three Men Hurt In Auto Crash

Three persons were injured last night when two automobiles collided on Route 40 about four miles east of Cumberland.

Taken to Sacred Heart Hospital were George Simmons, Route 2, Flintstone, with chest pains; and William Earl Lawyer, Route 30, Bedford Road, who had possible rib fractures, a broken hand, lacerations and possible chest and hip injuries. Joseph Thomas Collins, Brooklyn, N. Y., sustained lacerations of the face and was admited to Memorial Hospital.

Trooper Willis Foreman, Maryland State Police, said the accident occurred about 9:15 p. m. when a station wagon operated by Mr. Lawyer apparently crossed the middle of the highway and struck the car driven by Mr. Simmons head-on.

Citadel Plans Dedication Of New Workshop

The Salvation Army Citadel tonight will dedicate the new workshop which has been provided by the Cumberland Lions Club for the Citadel's Red Shield Club.

Rev. Crates S. Johnson will give the invocation as the dedicatio nceremony opens at 7:30 p. m. in the workshop located in the basement of the Citadel.

Representing the Lions Club will be William R. Carscaden, who will formally present the equipment to the Salvation Army, and Michael Beerman, committee chairman.

Robert M. Hainsfurther, chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board, will accept the workshop equipment for the use of the Citadel, and Capt. Daniel Biggs, Citadel commander, will give a brief talk of appreciation.

Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, will give the prayer of dedication and the benediction.

Equipment for the workshop and needed wiring were provide dby the club at a cost of $3,000.

The public is invited to attend the dedication and the open house which follows.

The dedication will close with a tour of the building, ending on the third floor, where refreshments will be served by the Citadel's Women's Home League and Girl Guards.

The open house will be the highlight of the local observance of Salvation Army Week.

Simpson Advocates

called it a step in the right direction.

He added that no other single asset is more vital to the security and future growth of the United States than its more than 220,000 miles of railroads. An adequate railway system is absolutely indispensable to national defense as was proved time and again as late as World War II, Simpson said.

"America cannot let its rail system fall apart. To do so is a form of national sabotage."

G. Ray Light Candidate For Council Post

G. Ray Light, 422 Arch Street, manager of the Maryland Theatre, announced yesterday he will be a candidate for City Council in the June 3 municipal primary.

Light, making his first bid in city politics, said he is runnjng as an independent and has no allegiances or affiliation with any other candidate.

In his statement, Light said:

"In my mind, there are several important problems facing the people of Cumberland. One of the most important is a need for a greater economy program (and by this I do not mean false economy).

"This program, I believe, can be accomplished by keeping a closer check on money spent and to eliminate the waste of money on things the city can do without. It seems to me there are many essential things that have been by-passed due to 'lack of money.'

"By a greater control over spending and the elimination of wasted money, more could be accomplished for the betterment of Cumberland without an increase in tax rates.

"The securing of new industries, the creation of new jobs and business opportunities should be a never-ending effort of a Mayor and City Council. If elected I will devote my time and effort to the successful solution to any problem that might face the citizens of Cumberland," he continued.

Light became manager of the Maryland Theatre 15 years ago when the theatre was owned by the late Mrs. Grace M. Fisher. In 1947, the theatre was leased to the Darnell Theatre Corporation. He remained with this company as city manager of the Maryland and Old Embassy theatres. In 1950, he was appointed district manager for the Darnell chain covering four states, Maryland, Ohio, Virginia and Kentucky, with offices in Cumberland. He was with Darnell in this capacity until 1954 when the theatre chain gave up its Cumberland operation. Rather than leave Cumberland, Light decided to remain here as manager of the Maryland and is presently operating the theatre for the estate of Mrs. Fisher.

Light was born in Cumberland in 1910 and has resided here all his life. He is married to the former Kathleen Wingate and they have a son, William E. Light.

Light has been a member of St. John's Lutheran Church 35 years.

B&O Veterans Meet Tonight

KEYSER — A special meeting of the B&O Veterans Association will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the Veterans Home on the B&O Railroad Company lot off North Mineral Street.

The meeting is specially for the veterans of the company, former employes and widows of former B&O vets. Two officers of the grand lodge will be present.

Bi-State Pony League To Open 5th Season Monday

Melvin Sloan Heads Circuit Of Six Teams

60 Games Listed; Emerick Is New Ellerslie Pilot

The six-club Bi-State Pony Baseball League will open its fifth season on Monday, May 26, with the initial contests set for Cresaptown, LaVale and Mt. Savage.

Curtis Hickle managed the pennant and playoff winners in 1957 and will be succeeded by Donald Emerick.

League teams will play a total of 60 games with the regular season ending August 1, followed by the Shaughnessy playoffs. Games are scheduled for Mondays and Fridays at 6 p. m.

In 1954, the first year of the league, Mt. Savage copped both the pennant and playoffs. The following year Barton took regular season honors and Piedmont won the Shaughnessy series. In 1956, Cresaptown finished in first place and Mt. Savage grabbed the playoff crown.

Officers of the league this year are: Melvin Sloan, Lonaconing, president; Harry Eisel, Frostburg, vice president; Bill Preston, Frostburg, treasurer, and Bob Goldsworthy, Frostburg, secretary, treasurer.

The 1958 schedule:

May 26—Lonaconing at Cresaptown, Ellerslie at LaVale, Frostburg at Mt. Savage.

Hyndman Cops Bedford County League Crown

Hornets Win 8-3 Over Everett In Season's Finale

Coach Harry McKinley's Hyndman High School tossers won the championship of the Bedford County High School Baseball League yesterday by defeating Everett-Southern High School in the final game at Hyndman by the score of 8-3.

The win gave the Hornets a record of 8-2. Everett-Southern finished the campaign with seven wins and three losses.

Charles Twigg was the winning pitcher, hurling until the sixth when he was relieved by Gary Lehman. Twigg and Lehman yielded 10 hits and whiffed seven. Diehl was tagged with the loss.

Hyndman exploded for eight runs in the fifth inning to sew up the decision. The Hornets collected six of their seven hits in this frame, including a home run by Kenny Shoup.

Lehman and Twigg obtained two hits each for Hyndman while Ash hit safely thrice and Boor blasted a triple for the losers.

Hyndman also won the basketball title in the county circuit for the 1957-58 season.

Score:

Everett-Southern	000	003	0—3	10	2
Hyndman	000	080	x—8	7	1

Smith recently notched his third straight win; Red Sox southpaws won just two games last year. Smith pitched for San Francisco in the Coast loop last season. (International)

Auburn Placed On Probation By Conference

Illegal Recruiting Charge Made By SEC

ATLANTA (AP) — Auburn, No. 1 football team in the nation last year, Thursday was placed on an indefinite probation by the Southeastern Conference and the athlete the school was charged with recruiting illegally was barred from competing in the conference.

The action came after a day-long meeting of the SEC Executive Committee, called to the extraordinary session at the request of Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, Auburn president.

The Alabama school was placed on probation until Sept. 1, 1961 by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. last month, just 11 days before another three-year probationary period would have expired. The first penalty also was set because of recruiting illegalities.

Auburn's officials denied the latest finding of the NCAA vigorously and hoped to obtain a clearance before their own conference so they could proceed with an appeal to the NCAA.

But after hearing the lengthy testimony in executive session from Auburn Athletic Director Jeff Beard, Draughon and NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers, the SEC Executive Committee found that the school violated sections of the conference's bylaws dealing with recruiting and financial aid.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore reported that the committee had found that Fuell "between May 18 and Aug. 14, 1957. . .came into possession of certain items." These included a 40 horsepower motor, boat and boat trailer at a total cost of $1,500.

Southern High Posts 7-6 Win

Tops Elk Garden In Final Contest

Southern High School of Oakland ended its baseball season with a 7-5 overall record by beating Elk Garden High School in a Potomac Valley Conference contest yesterday at Elk Garden by the score of 7-4.

Southern's record in the conference was 5-4 and Elk Garden wound up the campaign with a 3-7 mark.

Elk Garden knocked Jerry Wine out of the box in the second inning and Donald Dewitt, relief hurler, limited the West Virginians to one hit in 5⅓ frames, struck out 10 and received credit for the win. Charley Paugh, Elk Garden's starting pitcher, who gave way to Jerold Milavec in the fifth stanza, took the loss.

Danny Milavec of Elk Garden and Terry Colaw, Ken Shaffer and Dewitt collected two hits each. Box:

Giles Serves Ultimatum On Los Angeles Dodgers

Recommends Moving Club If It Fails To Get New Park

CINCINNATI (AP) — Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, served an ultimatum Thursday that if the Los Angeles Dodgers don't get the Chavez Ravine for a new stadium he will recommend moving the frenchise to another city.

Giles issued his lengthy three-page statement about the possible future of the Dodgers at a luncheon with Los Angeles baseball writers.

Los Angeles residents will vote June 3 in a referendum to determine whether a contract by which the Dodgers would get the Chavez Raine should stand.

"If the vote indicates we are not welcome," Giles said, "it will be my personal recommendation to our league that we take immediate steps to study ways and means of relocating the franchise in another city."

Giles pointed out the league controls the franchise of the member clubs and franchises are located by a vote of the league.

The Dodgers moved into Los Angeles this year from Brooklyn after president Walter O'Malley obtained a majority agreement in a contract to obtain the Chavez Ravine for a new park.

Opposition developed, however, and sufficient signers of a petition were obtained to throw the matter into a referendum.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers obtained permission to use the Los Angeles Coliseum as a temporary playing field for two years.

In Los Angeles, council Patrick McGee called Giles' threat "an insult to the intelligence of the people of Los Angeles."

"If that is the type of what this city and our people can expect from the National League, I, for one, don't want them at all," he said.

Folley To Fight Pete Rademacher

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Matchmaker George Parnassus announced Thursday that he has signed heavyweights Zora Folley and Pete Rademacher to fight in Los Angeles late in July, the exact date to be announced later.

Folley, of Chandler, Ariz., is a ranking challenger for the heavyweight title of Floyd Patterson. Rademacher, of Columbus, Ga., is the 1956 Olympic Games boxing champ who was knocked out in his first professional match by Patterson in Seattle last summer.

Card Practice Games

Kelly Local No. 26 will play a practice game with the Salvation Army today at 5:30 p. m., at Triple Lakes.

Chaney's Transportation and the Western Maryland Railway will play a practice game today at 6 p. m., on the Rolling Mill diamond.

To Drill Sunday

The Cumberland Optimists of the Hot Stove League will practice Sunday at 11:30 a. m., at Penn Avenue Field.

Fort Hill Wins Junior High School Track Meet 10th Time

Sentinels Cop 7 Of 14 Tests, Sweep Relays

Get 75¾ Points, Cresaptown 2nd And Beall 3rd

Making a clean sweep of four relays and copping three other first places, Fort Hill High School's thinclads romped off with the thirteenth annual Allegany County Junior High School Track and Field Meet yesterday at the local stadium by amassing a total of 75¾ points in a program of 14 events.

Cresaptown finished in the runner-up spot with 63⅛ points, Beall was third with 30 1/12 and was followed by Allegany with 20 7/12. Carver with 5¼ and Mt. Savage with four tallies.

Cresaptown captured five first places and tied for another.

The Sentinels collected 40 of their 75¾ points by winning the 95 pound and 115 pound relays and also the 440 yard and 880 yard relays in the senior unlimited class.

It marked the 10th time in 12 tries that Fort Hill had emerged the winner of the junior high meet since 1946. The Sentinels did not participate in the 1954 event.

Phil Brown, of Cresaptown, was the only winner of two events. He copped the 100 yards dash and the high jump in the junior unlimited class.

No records were equalled or broken in yesterday's meet. Summary:

Braves Stop Giants, 9-3

Lew Burdette Snaps 5-Game Win Streak

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The second place Milwaukee Braves defeated San Francisco 9-3 Thursday night, gaining a full game on the National League leading Giants who saw their five-game winning streak broken by the eight-hit pitching of Lew Burdette.

The defending champion Braves pulled to within a game and a half and .024 percentage points of the Giants, who had won 12 of their last 14 games. The game opened a three-game series, the first meeting between the clubs this season.

Burdette, who has been having his troubles since his World Series conquests, is now 4-3 for the season. Three of the Giant hits were collected by Orlando Cepeda who scored the Giants' first run and drove in two more with his 12th home run into the right field stands in the sixth. In addition to his homer he collected a double and single.

Soviet Offers Japan No A-Attack Pledge

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Thursday the Soviet Union would promise not to attack Japan with atomic or hydrogen weapons if the Japanese ban stockpiling of nuclear arms in their country.

Khrushchev made his promise in a letter to Yukitaka Haraguti, general counsel of Japanese trade unions, Moscow radio said. The broadcast said the Premier's letter was in reply to a query from the counsel.

Ike Helps Dedicate New NBC-WRC Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday that improved communications will help keep America better informed of world and national events and enable the country to make quicker decisions.

Speaking at the dedication of a new four million dollar home of the National Broadcasting Co. and its WRC television and radio studios, Eisenhower congratulated the company and its officials. At the same time he congratulated the citizenry, whose understanding, he said, will be made fuller by the new communications center.

Banks Sparks Cubs To Win

Hits Eighth Homer As Phils Lose, 7-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Shortstop Ernie Banks hit his eighth home run of the season and accounted for four runs Thursday night, boosting the Chicago Cubs to a 7-4 victory over Philadelphia. The Phillies dropped out of fourth place for the second time in three days.

Three of the Phil runs came on homers into the left field stands. Willie Jones, benched until a few weeks ago, hit his fourth of the season and Chuck Essegian his third in the eighth with Jones on.

Banks' three-run homer into the upper left field stands in the second came after he fouled off a pitch and catcher Stan Lopata dropped it for an error.

In the first inning Banks doubled scoring Al Dark, then scored himself on Walt Moryn's single.

Righthander Moe Drabowsky won his second game against four losses and helped his own cause by driving in a run with a single in the seventh. He got on with a fielder's choice bunt in the second and scored with Dark on Banks' homer. Sammy Taylor scored Moryn with a single for the other run in the eighth.

Williams Homers With Bases Full

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ted Williams unloaded a bases filled situation in the fourth inning with a home run and the Boston Red Sox held on to defeat the Kansas City Athletics Thursday night 8-5.

Ted Lepcio also homered in the ninth inning for Boston.

The Red Sox were trailing 3-1 going into the fourth inning and the Athletics had an old enemy, Boston pitcher Tom Brewer on the ropes. But the Kansas City starter, right - hander Jack Urban, couldn't hold off Williams and his mates. Jackie Jensen opened the fourth with a double and rode home on Jimmy Piersall's single. Then Urban walked Don Buddin and Pete Runnels scratched an infield hit to fill the bases for Ted the Thumper.

Urban went out for a pinch hitter, and the Sox were through scoring until the ninth, when they counted twice on Ray Herbert, fifth Kansas City pitcher.

Yankees Beat Detroit, 5-4, For 9th Straight Victory

Throneberry Belts Homer To Win Game

Gus Zernial's Pinch Homer Ties Score; Duren Is Winner

DETROIT (AP) — Rookie Marv Throneberry's second big-league home run and the Detroit Tigers' shoddy fielding gave the New York Yankees their ninth straight triumph Thursday, 5-4, and tumbled the Tigers to their eighth successive defeat.

Throneberry broke a 4-4 tie with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning that gave relief pitcher Rinold Duren his first major-league victory. Duren hurled the last three innings and the only damaging blow off him was an eighth inning pinch home run by Gus Zernial. That blow tied the score and set an American League record for lifetime pinch-hit home runs.

The Yankees now have won 13 of their last 14 contests and 22 out of 27 overall.

Wright's Crossing	0	3	.000
Finzel	0	3	.000

Barton defeated Finzel, 5-2, and Westernport won over Wright's Crossing, 13-3, yesterday in games played at Finzel and Westernport, and remained tied for first place in the Twilight Baseball League with 3-0 records.

In other games, Zihlman downed Lonaconing, 15-7, and Midland turned back Cumberland, 8-6.

Grover Fazenbaker of Barton limited Finzel to three hits while the defending champions collected eight, including a two-run homer and two singles by Ed Warnick in three official trips. Delford Crowe rapped a two-bagger and Bob Jones and Don Shockey smacked singles for Finzel. Fazenbaker and Hollie Atwood, losing pitcher, fanned seven each.

Clyde Broadwater drove in seven runs with a triple, double and sacrifice fly, "Kip" Montgomery blasted a 3-run homer and single and Dick Niland obtained two hits in Westernport's victory over Wright's Crossing. Dick Spriggs posted his second win of the campaign, limiting the visitors to four hits, including two-baggers by Llewellyn and Troutman.

In the game at Barton, Blank led the Zihlman attack with a double and two singles and Lennox got two hits. Jim Lupis smashed a second inning homer, "Hank" Winner garnered three safeties and Rodney Johnson two bingles for 'Coney.

Frank Buskirk's homer with a teammate aboard in the 7th inning gave Midland the decision over Cumberland. Dale Williams starred at the hot corner for Midland. Miller and "Pooch" Lewis of Cumberland and George Miller of Midland collected two hits each. The scores:

Belting the offerings of two pitchers for 12 safeties, the V.F.W. kept their record unblemished by winning their third straight game in the Rocking Chair League yesterday at the expense of the Loyal Order of Moose. The score was 10-1.

Ted Durbin sparked the attack with a triple, double and single while Phil Reuschel collected two hits and played an outstanding game at short, handling eight chances without a slipup. 'Butch' Johnson's catch of a foul to left was one of the fielding highlights. Bob Mattingly obtained two of the losers' five safeties.

For the first time in two seasons in the league, Ritter's A.C. won two games in a row as they defeated the K. of C. yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 3-1.

Carl "Shorty" Long held the Knights to two hits while E. Painter, L. Rhodes and F. Comer accounted for six of Ritter's eight safeties. Painter rapped a double and Comer larruped a three-bagger. Outstanding in the field were George Geatz, at short, Jack Steiner in left and Jack Martin.

The Elks downed Pittsburgh Plate Glass by the score of 3-1 behind Dick Klavuhn who collected three of the winners' seven blows. Curtis and Law had two hits each and Bill Thompson featured afield for the losers. Scores:

Chisox Emerge From Basement In Junior Loop

Jim Wilson Turns Back Orioles, 5-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Smarting under a demand for increased effort from Vice President Chuck Coomiskey, the Chicago White Sox Thursday blended a 10-hit attack with Jim Wilson's 9-hit pitching to defeat Baltimore 5-1.

The victory, combined with the New York Yankees 5-4 defeat of Detroit, enabled the Sox to escape the basement, where they had been roosting since April 26. The Tigers dropped to last.

In ending a four-game losing spell, the Sox bunched three hits in the third and fifth innings for a pair of runs in each in backing Wilson to his fourth decision against three losses.

Wilson spaced his hits effectively and the Orioles could score only in the ninth on a combination of singles by Gus Triandos and Brooks Robinson and throwing errors by Luis Aparicio and Bubba Phillips.

Strike-Sparked Riots

JAMSHEDPUR, India (AP) — Police have charged nearly 200 persons with arson, assault and curfew-breaking in three days of rioting at this iron and steel center.

A man was killed Wednesday night and 77 persons were injured in a clash between rioters and police. The riots were sparked by a strike at the giant Tata iron-steel works over the dismissal of 44 employes.

Puerto Rico Gets Pro Golf Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—America's professional golf tour moves into Puerto Rico next December with the $30,000 Dorado Beach invitational tournament at Dorado.

Plans for the four-day event were announced Thursday by H. Edwin Carter, tournament bureau manager of the Professional Golfers Assn., and the sponsors.

The event, scheduled Dec. 3-7, will be part of the inaugural ceremonies for a 1,200-acre resort being developed along the Atlantic Ocean by Laurence Rockefeller.

French Fighter To Test Busso

Lightweights Meet At Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Lahouari Godih, the French lightweight champion who has designs on Joe Brown's world title, will try to climb over fifth-rated Johnny Busso Friday night in his Madison Square Garden debut.

The Algerian from Oran who now lives in Paris is not ranked among the top 10 in his division but his 46-3-2 record deserves some consideration. In his lone U. S. appearance, he handled Larry Baker with the greatest of ease at Washington, April 18, winning a unanimous decision.

The United States no longer holds the feather, bantam or flyweight crowns in the lighter divisions. Now they are taking shots at Brown who has appeared entirely capable of defending himself in his recent defenses.

This 10-round match, first in the Garden since March 28, will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television, starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

It will be scored by rounds, as usual in New York, with a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

Despite the European's fine record on his many globe trotting junkets, Busso, the home town boy, will be a 7 to 5 favorite. Johnny won a sensational fight with Larry Boardman, April 11, at Boston.

Engle Whiffs 16, Barrelville Beats Tri-State, 7 To 0

Lefty Don Eagle pitched a one-hitter and struck out 16 as Barrelville blanked Tri-State Memorial in a Pen-Mar Little League games yesterday at Barrelville by the score of 7-0.

Tri-State's lone safety was a single by Roger Wilt, the losing pitcher, in the fifth inning.

Barrelville collected only three hits, two by Bernie Loar and the other by Elwood Sturtz.

Wilt fanned seven.

Steve Vandenburg yielded only two hits and whiffed nine as the Cresaptown Eagles topped the LaVale Orioles at Cresaptown by the score of 3-1.

Wamsley collected two of the winners' five hits and Kidwell rapped a double. The Orioles' two blows were Saylor's triple and Ricker's two-base hit.

Ellerslie was leading the LaVale Maroons in the last of the sixth by the score of 12-11 when rain brought a halt to hostilities. The Maroons had runners on second and third with one out when the rains came. The score reverted to the previous inning, 8-8, and the game will be continued at a later date. The scores.

New Frostburg Store To Open

FROSTBURG — A new place of business will open today at 9:15 a. m. when The Army-Navy Discount Store opens at 73 Main Street, in the room formerly occupied by the O. and D. Novelty Shop.

The store, one of two owned and operated by Cyrus F. and Leah Davidson, will carry a line of goods including military surplus supplies, work and sport clothes, paints and camping and sporting equipment.

Peter Thorn will be the manager, assisted by Mrs. Mary Dayton.

The Davidson's also operate another store in Keyser, having been at that location for a year. Mr. Davidson is a member of the National Association of Surplus Dealers, The Kiwanis Club of Keyser and B'nai Brith Congregation of Cumberland.

Mrs. Davidson is a member of the Women's Club of Keyser, and the Women's League of Cumberland. They have one son, Philip, who assists them with the business.

Free gifts will be given to all patrons who make purchases at the new store on the opening days, today and Saturday. The store also will be open both evenings.

Barton Couple Feted On 32nd Anniversary

BARTON — Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metz Sr. were honored with a dinner by their children at the Town House in Keyser Sunday in celebration of their 32nd wedding anniversary.

They are the parents of three sons and one daughter and have five grandchildren.

Atending the dinner were Miss Carol Metz, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metz Jr. and children, Bruce, Caroline Jean, and Patty Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Metz and children, Ernie and Nancy. Their youngest son, Paul, resides in Chicago and was unable to attend.

Social Chart

The spring festival of Johnson Heights PTA will be held tonight at the school, beginning at 6:30. There also will be a crowning of a king and queen.

Navy Mothers Club will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Legion home, when officers will be elected and a memorial service will be held. All officers are asked to wear white.

Miss Vera Gurley Honored By Friends

Miss Vera Gurley, who will enter the National Lutheran Home, Washington, next month, was honored by 74 friends from St. Paul's Lutheran Church at a dinner at Central YMCA.

Highlights of Miss Gurley's activities in the church were given by Mrs. Calvin Keiter. A choir member for 38 years, she served as organist, Sunday school teacher, musical director and was a member of every organization in the church.

Rev. John F. Sammel offered the invocation. Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie paid tribute to Miss Gurley and accompanied group singing. Miss Dorothy Willison directed an impromptu concert by a rhythm band. A choir, formed by members who had sung with Miss Gurley, also sang. Mrs. James Orr made the honor guest "Queen for a Day," and Mrs. Nell Smith read a poem. A corsage and gifts were presented to Miss Gurley.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

John W. Reynolds, 721 Maryland Avenue, Cumberland, Maryland, vs. Margaret E. Reynolds. No. 25220 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII of the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states that the parties hereto were married on or about the 10th day of June, 1938 in Winchester, Virginia, and that one child, an adult and married now, was born of the said marriage; that the defendant is guilty of the crime of adultery, and that on March 11th, 1958, she left the home premises where the parties resided together and her present whereabouts is unknown; that the parties hereto own property at 721 Maryland Avenue, Cumberland and a 1957 Dodge automobile which is in both names but which the plaintiff has paid for; that the plaintiff is and has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland for more than two years prior to the filing of this suit; and that the defendant's whereabouts are unknown but that she is believed to be in California.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 22th day of May, 1958, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper one in each of four (4) successive weeks, before the 23rd day of June, 1958, giving notice to the absent defendant of the object and purpose of this suit and warning her to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 9th day of July, 1958, to show cause, if any she has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Brisk Stock Market Rise Sparked By Steel Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels set the pace for a brisk stock market rise Thursday but tobaccos were upset late in the session.

Key stocks went ahead from fractions to a point or more. Tobacco shares took losses of 2 or 3 points.

The market was higher from the start, widened its gains in vigorous trading then trimmed its advance in the afternoon. A spurt of selling in the tobaccos was a further dampener on the general upsweep.

Steels were helped by a number of factors in the news as well as a big short interest in the major steelmakers. Short sales involve transactions in borrowed stock which must be replaced at a future date when the short-seller hopes to buy them at a lower price. The shorts were "squeezed" by rising prices of steel shares and ran to cover.

The steels also were bolstered by the rising production rate in the industry, predictions by some steel executives of a price boost and the statement by Benjamin Fairless, head of the American Iron & Steel Institute, that there are good indications the nation may be on its way to recovering from the recession.

The rise of the cost of living to another record high, a drop in new claims for jobless pay and reports of a price increase for copper at the smelter level and a rise in steel scrap quotations at Pittsburgh were other factors.

Volume of 2,950,000 shares was the best in more than a week and compared with 2,580,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to $169.30 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Four of diamonds.

It took three consecutive losing finesses to sink declarer in his four heart contract today and he was not very pleased to hear criticism from his partner at the conclusion of the hand. It was North's contention that one of the finesses should have been refused. Let us examine the situation on its merits.

West opened the four of diamonds. East won with the ace and returned the suit. Having no useful discard, declarer ruffed in dummy and took the heart finesses, which lost to West's king. West shifted to a spade. Declarer put in the queen and lost to the king. A spade was returned and declarer as a last resort tried the club finesses, which also failed.

North heaped abuse upon his partner for taking the trump finesse. South pointed out that he played the hand in such a manner as to render himself an odds on favorite. If only one of the three finesses worked, he was home and the odds were seven to one against all three finesses losing. (In the gamester's parlance, it was a parlay of three even money chances.)

True enough, declarer's chances were very bright, but North pointed out that partner could have afforded himself an even greater chance of success by refusing the trump finesse. When the ace drops the king, the battle is won.

But let us assume that the king of hearts does not fall. Declarer cashes the remaining diamond, stripping the hand of that suit, gets out with a heart, and if West wins South still has two finesses remaining for him. But if East has the king so that the trump finesses would have worked, he is in without a safe means of exit, for he must lead into one of dummy's tenaces.

Behind The News In Business

by Leslie Gould

Frank M. Cryan, who has just stepped out as a long time partner in a small Stock Exchange firm, has written "my side of the story" of the Jefferson Custodian Fund.

This is the small investment trust which was almost taken over by a mystery group.

Cryan, who had headed the trust and was its founder, sold the group control of a company managing the trust's $1,270,000 portfolio of securities and cash.

The group immediately took over the top executive posts in the trust and within a matter of hours sold $241,000 of prime stocks. They then sought a cashier's check for $396,091 from the bank serving as trustee for the trust. This check was to pay for a list of securities for which the bank could find "no information whatsoever."

The bank was the Bankers' Trust. When its alert officer—Harold S. Seal — called in the SEC, the deal fell through. Now the whole matter is under investigation by the SEC and other authorities.

The payment to Cryan was in two cashier's checks for $261,000 drawn on a small upstate New York bank. Payment on the checks was stopped, according to an affidavit of the SEC "when, it seems, no funds had been deposited by the purchasers of the stock to cover the amounts of the checks."

Cryan in his letter giving "my side of the story" said the prospective purchasers of his stock in the trust's management firm "made good sense to me" in detailing a program for advertising, merging the trust with other funds and then making it a closed end trust.

"As a result," he continues, "the sale of the stock of the Jefferson Research (the management firm) was effected on Feb. 26, 1958, and in connection with the sale I and my associates resigned as officers and directors of Jefferson Custodian Fund, Inc., as did the other directors and officers of the Fund."

Then, he details how under the Investment Company Act, stockholders must be called to elect a new board and officers. Then he goes on:

"Despite these provisions of the law, the new management of the Fund, without calling a meeting of stockholders of the Fund to elect new members to the Board of Directors and without submitting any investment management contract to the Fund's stockholders for their approval, proceeded to order the Bankers Trust Co., as custodian of the securities and cash of the Fund, to sell certain stocks in the Fund's portfolio and, shortly thereafter, to purchase certain securities which, as alleged in the complaint filed by the SEC, appeared 'to be of little or no value.'"

Here is the affidavit of Harold Seal, assistant vice president of the Bankers Trust:

"Late in the morning of Feb. 26, 1958, Frank M. Cryan Sr., following a telephone call to such effect, came to my desk at the bank with two other persons, one of whom he introduced as a Mr. Setrian and the other a Mr. Cally. Mr. Cryan explained that Mr. Setrian was the new president of Jefferson, and at my request, Mr. Cryan dictated and signed a letter in which he stated among other things that Mr. Setrian had recently been elected president of Jefferson . . .

"At approximately 4 o'clock on the same afternoon, Feb. 26, 1958, the man who had been introduced as Mr. Setrian came to my desk at the bank with another individual whom he introduced to me as Mr. Aversa. Mr. Setrian at this time handed me a letter addressed to the bank from Jefferson, dated Feb. 26, 1958 . . . This letter authorized the issuance of a cashier's check to one Frederick Frazier in the sum of $396,091, upon delivery to the bank of certain enumerated securities."

Cryan in his letter insists he had no knowledge of this and "after all the ramifications of this transaction were brought to my attention, I returned to the bank which had issued them the cashier's checks which had been delivered to me in payment for my Jefferson Research stock and on which payment was subsequently stopped."

Cryan says nothing about any investigation on his part of the background of the group to whom he was ready to turn over a $1,270,000 Fund which he had founded.

Question Ignored

LONDON (AP)—The London Security Council, controlled by Laborites, has decided to erect a plaque to Karl Marx on the site in Soho where the father of socialism and foster father of communism lived in 1851-56.

The Laborites ignored a question by Conservative Victor Goodhew:

"What important positive contribution to human welfare or happiness does the council wish to commemorate?"

Former Area Man Is Slain In California

George C. Teeter, 24, Shot By Best Friend

A 24-year-old former resident of near Flintstone was one of two persons killed Sunday in a shooting in a bar in Los Angeles.

George C. Teeter was killed by an irate husband who also killed his own wife, according to police in Los Angeles.

Officers said Elroy E. Pena, 37, walked into the bar shortly before closing and pleaded with his estranged wife, Joan, 36, to return home with him. She was sitting with Teeter and refused to leave with her husband, according to police.

"Can't you see she doesn't want you any more?" Teeter asked. "Why don't you get the hell out of here?"

Returns, Shoots Wife

Then Pena charged back into the bar and shot his wife in the face, police said.

Pena slumped on the bar and buried his face in his arms. "She was running around a lot and I just couldn't take it any more," he told police.

Police also said Pena and Teeter were understood to be very good friends, the Associated Press reported.

Pena has been booked on suspicion of murder, police said.

In West Since 1956

Teeter had been living in Texas since his discharge from the Army in 1956. He left Texas several weeks ago for California, where he was looking for employment.

A native of the Flintstone area, he was a son of the late Samuel C. Teeter and is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. Alice Teeter, this city. Also surviving, are two half-brothers, William Ginoverski, with the Army at Fort Eustis, Va., and Dorsey Jones, Mineola, N. Y.

Services were conducted in Los Angeles, and burial will be in National Cemetery there.

New Jobless Claims Hit Low For Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Employment Security received fewer claims for unemployment checks than in any week this year.

Executive Director Robert B. Kimble, in his weekly report, said Thursday that the number of initial claims dropped to 4,930, down 749 for the week ending May 10, from the 5,679 for the previous week.

Kimble said the drop was partly seasonal.

It was the first week in 1958 that the number of claims has dropped below the 5,000-mark.

The previous week's low for the year in initial claims was 5,394, for the week ending March 15. The record high for the year is 10,414, set during the week ending Jan. 4.

The amount of unemployment checks issued last week also dropped for the third consecutive week, Kimble said.

Last week's decrease was entirely in Maryland's counties, with Baltimore City showing a moderate rise.

A total of 45,801 checks amounting to $1,342,537 were issued last week, a drop of $29,471 from the previous week.

Kimble has called the number of initial claims the best gauge the department has to register the amount of unemployment in the state.

Man Is Found Dead In Auto

Benjamin Lashley died of natural causes, according to the deputy medical examiner's office. A post-mortem showed death was due to a gastric hemorrhage from a stomach ulcer.

Trooper C. W. Lewis of the Maryland State Police investigated.

Authorities said last night Mr. Lashley apparently became ill and pulled off the highway near the Ernest O'Baker service station. Too weak to drive his car, he climbed into the back seat, where he died, they said.

State Police received a call from Mr. O'Baker shortly after 8 o'clock that the man was slumped in his car.

B&O Veterans Convene Here

Simpson Advocates Railroad Equality

The President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, in a speech delivered here last night, called on the public to demand that Congress give the nation's railroads relief from the unequal handicaps sapping their strength.

"If all the people are made aware of the grave dangers besetting the industry there will be a concrete demand for corrective legislation by Congress," Howard E. Simpson said in a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the B&O's Veterans Employes Assn.

Simpson was scheduled to personally deliver the speech, copies of which have been sent to 25,000 persons, including the railroad's stockholders and others in public life.

But he was delayed in Washington where he testified Thursday before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce which is considering the legislation he urged in his speech. W. C. Baker, B&O vice president in charge of operations, read Simpson's speech to some 600 persons attending the convention banquet.

Using "The Playing Field" as his theme, Simpson urged railroaders, stockholders and the public in general to get down out of the grandstands and into the game by writing their congressmen demanding corrective legislation.

"Much of our competition is provided with many facilities from public funds," Simpson said. "Ironically, the railroads contribute a substantial portion of those funds. In contrast, the railroads present one of America's great do-it-yourself examples. We buy our own, we build our own, we maintain our own, and we pay taxes on our own."

He said the railroads have been deprived of a fundamental right—the American right to compete, and the present policy of continuing to treat the railroads as monoplies is slowly but surely undermining their vitality.

He said all that is needed for better rail transportation service, regular employment and for a sound future is to apply exactly the same rules of regulation, the same rules of taxation, the same rules of selfsupport to each form of transportation, whether rail, highway, waterway or airway.

Simpson said the railroads are unable reasonably to compete due to "unfair and obsolete regulations. He said the loss in rail traffic is not a result of the current downturn in business but goes much deeper—"to the long-existing sharp and destructive inequality between the regulations to which the railroads are required to march and those to which their competitors are free to step along."

Simpson said the railroads are gratified that the Senate Subcommittee on Surface Transportation, headed by Sen. Smathers (D-Fla), has recommended deferment of taxes, competitive rate making and repeal of the excise tax on transportation of passengers and measures.

He said the proposed legislation does not encompass all that the railroads need or asked for but he

Improvements Being Made At Post Office

A catwalk and lookout for postal inspectors, an inside stairway for postal personnel and a mail conveyor are now in the construction stage at the Cumberland Post Office.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon Sr. said yesterday the project is expected to be completed within the next two or three weeks.

The catwalk and lookout, which will include seven openings, are being constructed in the hallway of the second floor adjoining the mail room formerly occupied by the Federal Court Room.

The second floor mail room has been in operation for about three years, he said, since the space on the first floor became inadequate.

The Post Office Department requires the use of a lookout by inspectors in order to detect anyone suspected of stealing mail from a post office.

When the local building was built provisions were made for a lookout on the first floor. The construction of the stairway will erase the need for postal personnel to use the passenger elevator which is now being used to transport mail to the second floor mail room.

A 30-degree angle conveyor is being placed between the two floors to carry the mail back and forth to the second floor where it is sorted.

The catwalk and lookout are being constructed with concrete block and will be finished off with marble and plaster to match the hallway.

Postmaster Conlon said the Kennedy Electrical Company of Washington, D.C. was awarded the contract and has sub-contracted work to the Monitor Construction Company of Alpha, near Washington.

Former Barton Residents Hurt

Mrs. Jeannette (Kirk) Wright, her daughter, Mrs. Darlene Bryan, and her granddaughter, Denise Bryan, who is one year old, were injured last night near their home at Brookville, Montgomery County, when the car Mrs. Bryan was driving struck a tree.

Mrs. Wright, a native of Barton, was the most seriously hurt, with severe facial lacerations. Her daughter, who also formerly resided in Barton, and the baby, were less seriously hurt. All three are patients in Montgomery County General Hospital at Olney.

G. RAY LIGHT

HAROLD K. RITTER

CANDIDATES—G. Ray Light, 442 Arch Street, manager of the Maryland Theatre, announced yesterday he will be a candidate for City Council in the June 3 city primary election. He is making his first bid in city politics, as is Harold K. Ritter, 521 Williams Street, who filed as Council candidate Tuesday. Mr. Light's announcement is printed on Page 28.

Girl Injured May 9 Still Unconscious

The 10-year-old daughter of a local family who was injured in a two-car accident on May 9 in Pennsylvania, is still unconscious in a hospital at Norristown.

Elaine Hudson, daughter of W. Lester Hudson, 39, and Maxine Hudson, 36, of 133 Pennsylvania Avenue, suffered a fractured skull and was in shock when admitted to the hospital.

The girl's parents also were hurt in the accident and are still patients at Montgomery Hospital in Norristown. Another Hudson child, James Lester, also was hurt but he has been released from the hospital and is staying with relatives here.

Mr. Hudson, a foreman of the cable splicing section of the C&P Telephone Company, sustained a fractured wrist and ribs and lacerations of the face. His wife, a registered nurse, sustained a severe head injury.

The Hudsons were enroute to Fanwood, N. J., when their car and an auto occupied by an elderly couple collided. Both cars caught on fire after the crash and were destroyed.

Fourth Of July Fireworks Planned Here

Cumberland will have its traditional Fourth of July fireworks display.

Plans for the Independence Day observance were approved by Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz at a meeting Wednesday with C. Eugene Mason, city recreation director.

Commissioner Buchholtz authorized the Recreation Department to contract with Bert Caldara, Mt. Savage, for the fireworks display.

The display will be basically the same as held here last year and will cost $650.

Mr. Mason yesterday informed Mr. Caldara of the decision to repeat the popular fireworks event and added that the commissioner complimented Mr. Caldara for last year's display and expressed hope for another one as fine this year.

Man Appeals License Loss

Robert Smith, Box 285, Bedford Road, whose driving license was revoked by James B. Monroe, Maryland's commissioner of motor vehicles, yesterday filed a rather unusual appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Court attaches had recalled a number of times when mandamus proceedings were instituted in equity suits by drivers seeking to recover their licenses, Smith's action, taken for him by Attorney Edward J. Ryan, was under Section 109 of Article 66½ of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

Smith cited two reasons for his appeal. The first was that the parking violation charged against him occurred because the car was out of gasoline and he had to park it along the road. The second reason was that the commissioner of motor vehicles felt that he was guilty of driving with a suspended license when in fact he was found not guilty of the charge by Magistrate Morris Baron. Smith held driver's licenses issued by both Ohio and Maryland.

J. C. Burdette Is Re-Elected By B&O Vets

Sightseeing Tour Is Planned Today

J. C. Burdette, of Baltimore, yesterday was re-elected grand president of the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association when some 52 delegates voted at the convention headquarters located in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

The two-day convention winds up today with a sightseeing tour of Cumberland and area. Mr. Burdette who was employed by the B&O for some 46 years, was a mechanic draftsman. Other officers for the coming year include:

L. C. Wilcox, Keyser, vice-president; R. L. Hause, Baltimore, secretary-treasurer; E. M. Lee, of McMechen, W. Va., chaplain; W. A. Robinson, Parkersburg, sergeant-at-arms; and Carl J. Sturm, Dayton, Ohio, chairman of the Board.

Members of the Board include E. O. Artz, R. T. Foster, J. J. Levelle, B. Miller, A. A. Cote, W. J. Calhoun, J. J. Reed, H. J. Hall, F. M. Hartell and H. L. Roper.

Mr. Burdette said yesterday that none of the 43 divisions of the association made a bid for next year's convention which is to be held sometime in May.

This morning those visiting here are planning to see more of Cumberland and surrounding area when they board buses at 10 o'clock. They will visit George Washington's cabin at Riverside Park, view the Masonic Home on Greene Street and Blue Bridge and proceed to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant and Potomac Edison plant as well as the Amcelle plant.

At Cresaptown they will turn off at Winchester Road and return to Cumberland by way of Route 40 to the Narrows and Lovers Leap to the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, McKaig's Hill.

After luncheon at St. Mary's hall the visitors hope to take a trip to the huge Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch and may take a side trip to Oldtown.

Some hope to return to the Queen City in time to catch Train 22 back to Baltimore.

Ladies Night will be held tonight at the Ali Ghan Country Club by the Rotary Club of Cumberland. It will feature dinner music and dancing, beginning at 7 p. m. William Eisenberger is in charge of tickets.

Five Red Cross Directors Are Elected

Annual Financial Report Is Given

The Board of Directors of the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross were voted upon last night during the annual meeting held at the Cumberland Post Office.

Unanimously elected, according to C. M. Sanner, chapter chairman, were Mrs. Robert Gerson, Ralph Webster, Duard H. Little, Mrs. William H. Ryan, and Garland L. Johnston.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. E. A. Godsey, pastor of First Methodist Church in Frostburg.

Mr. Sanner gave a review of the services of the Red Cross chapter during the past year and he spoke with regret at the loss of Mrs. Gilbert Miller, water safety chairman, who died this past April.

It was pointed out that her loss is keenly felt by the county chapter and the many organizations to which she gave so generously of her time and talents.

The financial report shows total expenses of $36,344.46 for the year: (estimated for May and June):

National's portion, $19,974.08; blood program, $5,475.32, ($3,936.80 paid Johnstown Regional); general administration, $4,500.74; home service administration, $4,176.26; home service, grants and loans, $857.14; volunteer services, $400.27; first aid, $332.15; disaster, $263.88.

Junior Red Cross, $179.01; water safety, $132.57 and nursing services, $53.04. In the 1958-59 County United Fund Drive the county chapter's total budget request was $37,676 and the present CUF allocation, $35,700, with some $19,276 paid to national headquarters.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a certificate and service pins. Mrs. Marietta Early, chairman of the Nursing Service, presented an instructor-trainer certificate for care of the sick and injured to Mrs. Raymond Boore.

Mr. Sanner presented a 40-year service pin to Mrs. Hammond Amick who in turn presented 15-year-service pins to Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, Mrs. Leola Middlecamp, Mrs. Josie Hartung, Mrs. Charles Callis, Mrs. D. J. Mahaney, Mrs. Franklin Kremer, Mrs. William Wolford, Mrs. Chester Ford, Mrs. Margaret Enlow and Mrs. Marguerite Findlay.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Chorpenning Heads Typos

A. Joseph Chorpenning was elected president of Cumberland Typographical Local 244 in balloting here this week.

Mr. Chorpenning, a Times & Alleganian Co. printer, served for two years as vice president of the local, was third vice president of the Tri-State Conference of 31 locals for two years, and was president for three years of the Allied Printing Trades Council.

He succeeds William P. Price as president of the local.

Hospital X-Ray Rate Gouge Seen

Doctor Testifies In Blue Cross Case

BALTIMORE (AP)—A pathologist Friday accused some hospitals of overcharging for their laboratory and X-ray services to make up for losses in other departments.

Dr. Paul M. Guerin, an assistant city medical examiner and patho logist at Franklin Square Hospital said that it was not an unusual practice.

He made the statement while testifying before Charles S. Jackson, state insurance commissioner, during a hearing on a proposed rate increase by Blue Cross.

It is not out of the ordinary for a hospital to take in $200,000 for laboratory expenses that run about $50,000, he said.

Clinton Bamberger, assistant attorney general assigned to the insurance commissioner, asked Guerin if this were true of the 41 hospitals in Maryland.

"It's up to the State Insurance Department to find out," Guerin answered.

Blue Cross wants to raise its rates about 22 per cent. It said increased hospital costs made it lose money last year.

Dr. Harry F. Klinefelter Jr., assistant professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, said he thought Blue Cross rates should be increased but suggested that an insurance plan be devised with a minimum deductible for the entire contract.

"Such a deductible contract would reduce the number of people who go to hospitals for rests."

Election Board Will Resume Canvass Today

Tuesday's primary election in Allegany County still is not official.

Members of the County Board of Election Supervisors were busy at the Court House all day yesterday and again last night but did not complete the official canvass of the election.

They did tabulate some 46 absentee votes, 34 Republican and 12 Democratic, and check the totals on the 100 voting machines which were used in the 45 polling places around the county.

Earl E. Manges, president of the Board of Election Supervisors, said the canvass probably will be concluded this morning. He emphasized that a few minor errors were discovered but none sufficient to change the positions of the candidates.

Chief interest in the canvass centered on two races, both Republican. One was for the third GOP nomination for county commissioner and the other was for the seventh man elected to the Republican State Central Committee.

Simeon W. Green of Frostburg, clinched the third spot with 2,017 votes, according to the unofficial returns from all 45 polling places. His total was 94 more than the 1,923 received by Louis V. Shinnamon of LaVale, who ranked fourth in the 12-man field.

J. Kenneth Morgan of LaVale, placed seventh among the 14 candidates for the Republican State Central Committee, according to the unofficial returns, with 2,336 votes or 14 more than the 2,322 obtained by Ernest B. Treat, this city, who has been serving on the committee by appointment.

After the absentee votes were tabulated, Mr. Green still held a 94-vote margin over Mr. Shinnamon as each received five absentee votes. Mr. Treat narrowed his deficit to 12 votes by polling 11 absentee votes to nine for Mr. Morgan.

Senior President Welcomed

City Filing Deadline Approaches

10 Candidates Are Qualified For Race

Tonight at midnight is the deadline for filing of candidates for Cumberland's primary election on June 3.

Two candidates have formally filed for the mayoral contest. Eight candidates, including three incumbents, have filed and two others have announced they will be candidates in the primary council contest.

There were rumors that several other candidates, including several who failed to win in Tuesday's county primary election, are seriously considering entering the city contest.

Another mayoral candidate would assure a primary contest for the mayor's slot and the two announced candidates expected to file today will make a council primary necessary, even if no last-minute decisions are made.

Light In Race

The latest candidate is G. Ray Light, 422 Arch Street, manager of the Maryland Theatre, who announced yesterday he will be a candidate for City Council.

Neither he nor Keith T. Sisk, 306 Bedford Street, who announced Monday, have posted the $25 Council filing fee with City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

Officially in the race for the $3,600 a year mayor's post are Mayor Roy W. Eves, 72, of 103 Washington Street, who is seeking his third term as chief executive of the City of Cumberland.

The other mayoral candidate is J. Edwin Keech, 48, of 905 Louisiana Avenue, manager of a drug store at 43 Virginia Avenue.

Mayor Eves has filed but has made no announcement concerning his bid for re-election. Mr. Keech, making his first bid in politics, said he will run independently.

File For Council

As the deadline approaches, eight candidates have filed for Council. They are:

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, of 713 Fayette Street. Mr. Buchholtz served two consecutive two-year terms as finance commissioner and for the past four years has been commissioner of streets and public property.

Cecil C. Clark, 148 North Mechanic Street, will be making his fourth try for a municipal public office. He is a native of Cumberland and is president of Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union here.

Melvin G. Cline Sr., 44, of 1121 Ella Avenue, the first candidate to file for Council, operates the Cline Sports Center at his home. He is making his first venture into politics.

Philmore F. Fleming, of 516 Sheridan Place, is making his first bid in city politics. He is local manager of the Maryland Hospital Service, Inc., and has been active in veterans affairs here for many years.

Lonnie I. Jackson, 531 Patterson Avenue, is making his first bid in politics. He is employed as a foreman in the final finishing department of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here.

Seeks Re-election

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan, 310 Cumberland Street. He has served 10 years on the City Council and is running on his record.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long, of 518 Ridgewood Avenue. He has served as finance commissioner and police and fire commissioner during his eight years on the Council. He is employed as safety director of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here.

Harold K. Ritter, of 521 Williams Street, is an employe of the B&O Railroad Company and co-owner with his wife of a Baltimore Avenue grill.

Marlene Clark Wins Contest

Allegany and Garrett counties in district competition in the annual 4-H Public Speaking Contest held in the Grantsville Woodmen of the World Hall Wednesday night.

Marlene Clark of Pleasant Grove, the Allegany County winner, was triumphant in the girls' contest, defeating Susan Bowman of McHenry. Then, in the boys' competition, Ralph Buckel Jr. of Bittinger, Garrett County, was adjudged the winner over Richard Heavner of Union Grove.

Judges were Mrs. James McHenry, Oakland, and Clauson Smoot of Reisterstown in Baltimore County, who temporarily is residing in Cumberland.

State finals are scheduled for August 5 at College Park, when the six district winners will compete for top honors.

Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Lester H. Boden, 405 Roberts Place, is a patient in Memorial Hospital, after surgery.
